Case of Lowell Woman Held as Witness Placed on File

District Attorney Finds Fault With Action of the Lower Court

Justice Cox Presides at Opening of the Criminal Session Here

When the case of Irene Leason, charged with improper behavior, was called at the criminal session of the superior court, which opened in Lowell this morning, District Attorney Nathan A. Tufts criticized the action of the lower court in sentencing the defendant to three months in jail for the purpose of holding her as a witness in another case, as it was claimed that Mrs. Leason, if released, would return to her husband out west. Counsel for the defendant, who had pleaded guilty to the complaint in the lower court, informed the presiding Justice of the superior court that owing to the nature of the case the judge of the lower court was willing to place the case on file, but when it was learned that she would leave town if released, a direct sentence was imposed.

District Attorney Tufts said the law provided ways and means for the holding of witnesses and in his opinion it was rather unusual to impose a direct sentence simply to hold a witness for another case and on his recommendation the case was scheduled to open at 10 o'clock, but owing to a delay in the arrival of the prisoners, who were brought in an automobile truck over the road from Cambridge, the court did not convene until 10:30 o'clock. Justice Cox opened the session and prayer was offered by Rev. N. W. Matthews of the Gorham Street P. M. church. In the course of the forenoon session several cases were disposed of without trial. The list of jurors for this session is as follows:

John R. Anderson, Cambridge, masseur; Charles L. Brewster, Medford, salesman; Byron Brigham, Woburn, carpenter; Chester C. Burk, Somerville, foreman; George Carter, Haverhill, undertaker; John E. Cavanaugh, Marlboro, shoemaker; Charles M. Clement, Lowell, carpenter; Charles E. Crosby, Somerville, shipper; Job Dart, Cambridge, carpenter; Richard W. Deshon, Arlington, clerk; Irvin Eames, Wilmington, dealer; William J. Farrell, Woburn, courier; Kenney P. Fletcher, Groton, farmer; William R. Folsom, Draught, carpenter; Daniel Gilmore, Malden, watchman; Arthur W. Giroux, Woburn, printer; Louis W. Johnson, Malden, contractor; John Lawrence, Lowell, waiter; James McAvoy, Malden, machinist; James F. Mulhern, Cambridge, foreman; Patrick P. Murphy, Cambridge, foreman; Edwin A. Nash, Malden, cutter; Charles E. Nichols, Marlboro, farmer; John J. Nolan, Newton, moulder; William P. O'Connor, Everett, cooper; artist; James D. Redd, Cambridge, watchman; Seth B. Richardson, Haverhill, carpenter; Irving S. Rink, Concord, inspector; Morris Sheehan, Draught, farmer; Ambrose J. Spanton, Watertown, millwright; Ervin E. Smith, Chelmsford, merchant; Walter F. Tripp, Somerville, real estate; Frank G. Westwood, Newton, instructor; and Nesbit L. Woods, Groton, farmer.

The first case called was that of Charles Stahl, charged with violation of the liquor laws, who failed to put in an appearance, because, it was said, he had not been notified by the local police. The district attorney asked that the defendant be defaulted, but after Probation Officer Ramsey had informed the court that the defendant had paid $34 of the $50 fine imposed in the lower court, payment having been stopped because Stahl, who now resides in Boston, was out of work, the case was continued to a later date.

British Naval Estimates Announced

LONDON, March 14.—The British naval estimates for 1921-22 amount to £91,186,569 gross and £82,479,000 net, it was announced today by Lord Lee of Fairham, First Lord of the Admiralty. He said they were based on the government's policy of maintaining a "one-power standard."

City Treasurer Plans to Borrow $710,000

City Treasurer Fred H. Rourke is preparing to launch on the money market the largest single loan which the city of Lowell has attempted to make in its entire history and which, if successfully negotiated, will bring into the city's coffers a total of $710,000. The money is not to be used for one purpose, but is rather a combination of three individual loans. By grouping them together, the city treasurer hopes to save between $350 and $500 in interest charges.

The three loans which Mr. Rourke will attempt to negotiate at once are $450,000 of the new high school authorization of 1919, $200,000 of the memorial fund and $60,000 for municipal council on Feb. 26, or a total of $710,000. The present market rate of interest is 5 1/2 per cent, but Mr. Rourke feels that in view of the exceptionally large amount which he intends to borrow and the fact that it is payable in a 20-year period, the loan will be attractive to bankers and that he will be able to get the money at from 4 1/2 to 5 per cent.

If he gets it at 5 per cent or 1/2 per cent less than the present market rate, he will save approximately $30,000 in interest charges, while if he should be so fortunate as to get it for 4 1/2 per cent, the saving will amount to about $54,000.

The treasurer purposely delayed any attempt to borrow the $60,000 for bridges authorized by the council, although instructed to do so some time ago. He waited until he received instructions from the high school and auditorium commissions as to their financial wants and when these were received, he grouped them all in a single loan.

The high school commission has requested Mr. Rourke to borrow $500,000, but it will get only $450,000. The reason for this is that of the $750,000 originally authorized for the new high school by the legislature in 1919, there has been borrowed $300,000, leaving $450,000 still available. The 1915 authorization of $700,000 has been exhausted. The authorization of 1923, totalling $600,000, is still untouched, and Mr. Rourke does not deem it wise to break into the 1920 money for a mere $50,000. That would necessitate the advertising of a separate loan and would not enhance the city's chances of getting a reduced interest rate.

TRIAL OF WHITE SOX

Judge Dever Refuses Motion to Take Case Off Court Call—Hearing Thursday

CHICAGO, March 14.—Judge William H. Dever today refused to comply with a motion by the state that the trial of Chicago White Sox players and others indicted for the alleged throwing of the 1919 world series be taken off the court call. He ordered another hearing for next Thursday when it is believed a date for trial will be set.

Attorneys for the defense moved that an immediate trial be held Thursday, and Judge Dever said that he would announce his decision later. Claude Williams, Buck Weaver, Oscar Felsch, Eddie Cicotte, Bill Burns, Joseph J. Egan, Rachel Brown, Chick Gandil and Abe Attel were represented by counsel. Hal Chase was the only defendant not present or represented by counsel.

Packing Plant Employees Remain at Work Pending Mediation and Strike Vote

Thousands Attend Mass Meeting in Rain—Urged Not to Start a "Run Away Strike"

CHICAGO, March 14.—While awaiting the outcome of mediation plans and the result of a strike vote, employees in the packing plants of Chicago and other centers in the middle west had decided to go to work today under the reduced wage scale announced by the five leading packers. More than 100,000 men are affected by the reductions of 15 per cent and 12 1/2 per cent in the hourly rate and piece work rate respectively, with time and a half for overtime only after 10 hours.

"Any assumption that we are attempting to establish a 10-hour day is wrong," said a statement from Armour & Co., today in answer to charges of union leaders. "The whistle in the Armour plants will continue to blow at the end of eight hours' work each day."

At mass meetings held in a half-dozen packing cities yesterday, the workers were advised to remain at work until the strike vote was completed which it was said here would be about Friday. Union leaders suggested Friday as the date for the proposed conference in Washington of representatives of employers and employees with James J. Davis, secretary of labor.

Industrial Democracy

CHICAGO, March 14.—Armour & Co. today called an election in all of its plants for tomorrow for the employees to choose representatives to form an industrial democracy in which workers and employers would have equal representation and which would settle all questions of working conditions, wages and hours in the Armour plants.

HIGHLANDS UP IN ARMS OVER 20,000 PEOPLE SHOOTING OF GRAY SQUIRRELS

Children's Crusade Is Being Started Against Slaughter of the Innocents—Six Pets Killed by Fish and Game Warden—Tyler Park Residents Interviewed

This is one of the alleged "nippers" of the Tyler Park squirrel family. He refuses to be interviewed relative to the shooting of his relatives. He does not look grief stricken and his appetite for peanuts is very keen. He seems a bit apprehensive of danger, however, but finally condescended to make friends with us this morning after we had spoken kindly to him and assured him we were not "gunmen."

Result of Complaint

The break in the monotony of life in the section came about as the result of a complaint to the state fish and game authorities by Thomas G. Robbins, 15 Georgia avenue on March 4 that gray squirrels were doing damage to his property and he wanted to know how to get rid of them. A few days later Raymond J. Kenney, said to be a young man of Lowell, his age, according to people of the neighborhood, varying from 15 to 25 years, and a representative of the state fish and game commission visited the premises.

May Have Made Mistake

It is claimed by some of the Highlands people that the state official made a mistake when he advised the use of poison for killing. They say, and the opinion was borne out today by fish and game authorities, that the law prohibits the killing under any circumstances of any four-footed wild animal by the use of poison except woodchucks and rats.

Mr. Kenney suggests in his letter the use of traps and firearms and mentions that it would be well for Mr. Robbins to secure a permit from the police before using a gun. City authorities say that it is doubtful if the shooting of guns within the city limits and it is not known that any has ever been granted except in the case where a salute was to be fired at a soldier's funeral.

Game Warden Appears

Next appear upon the scene, upon receipt of an appeal from Mr. Robbins, Fish and Game Warden Harold L. Crosby and Elmer H. Houghton of Lowell for many years in the service. Mr. Houghton, with his trusty gun in hand, took up his standing near Robbins' barn. The pop, pop of his fowling piece was heard all over the Tyler

A miniature indoor flood which compelled the enlistment of the fire department, and caused $5000 damage to new Easter apparel for men, occurred yesterday at the Talbot clothing store in Central street, when a water pipe in the New American hotel, a few feet away, burst. The water leaked from the pipe and ran down the street, and all the way leading to the prison and all the hutting streets. An altar had been improvised near the prison doors and on the walls and trees in the prison yard, sacred images and pictures had been placed.

ANTI-JEWISH RIOTS QUELLED IN VIENNA

VIENNA, March 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Anti-Jewish disorders had abated today. They threatened to develop into a serious situation last night, but the police scattered crowds on the streets and prevented loss of life. Shops owned by Jews were damaged by stones and in a few cases Jews were beaten.

The disorders began at the congress of the Austrian anti-semitic association, which has been in session for several days, attended by delegates from 62 chapters in Austria and a few representatives of Bavarian and Hungarian anti-Jewish societies. Speakers advocated pogroms and the organization of Christians in Austria. While this meeting was going on, large crowds assembled in the Rathaus square, where similar addresses were given. Two Jewish students were found in a crowd and were beaten and driven away.

At dusk the meeting broke up and a great crowd swept through the streets singing German songs and shouting, "Away with the Jews." Now and then a flunk of glass full of a stone being thrown through a window. The crowd moved steadily toward a Jewish quarter of the city but large forces of police had been summoned to bridges across the canal over which the crowds must move to reach the ghetto of Vienna. The rioters were turned back but there was more or less rowdiness and street fighting before the police dispersed the mob.

CHURCH ORGANIST BEATEN TO DEATH

PERTH, AMBOY, N. J., March 14.—Attacked by an unknown man Saturday night during a heavy fog, Mrs. Edith Wilson, 26, was strangled and beaten to death with a blackjack in an open lot within a short distance of her home here.

The young woman, who was a church organist, left a friend after attending theatre about 9:30, saying she was going to her home a short distance away. About 10 o'clock her mother became alarmed when she did not return and asked neighbors to organize a searching party.

The body was found by the searchers about midnight. There was evidence of a terrible struggle. After assailant probably secreted himself behind a hedge on the lot and grasped Mrs. Wilson by the throat as she passed along the street. Although several persons were in nearby houses, no outcries were heard.

Finger print experts from New York have been summoned to examine and photograph the impressions found on the woman's throat. A wisp of blond hair found clenched in her hand was regarded as a valuable clue by the police.

ROBBERS FLY OFF WORCESTER SAFE

WORCESTER, March 14.—The safe in the Wachusett creamery store at 511 Main street, containing $800 and books and papers, was stolen Saturday night. Yesterday Chief Thomas Dolan of the Milbury police telephoned that the safe was lying by the roadside in that town near the farm of Thomas Davidson, smashed and money gone. It evidently had been smashed open with a sledgehammer and chisel.

Worcester police say a key was used to unlock the front door, that the thieves watched their chance during the hard storm of Saturday night to carry the safe, which is a small one out to the street and load it into an automobile.

JUDGE DOWD LAUDS WILSON AND PELLETIER

BOSTON, March 17.—Woodrow Wilson was one of the greatest presidents and his name will go down in history with that of Washington and Lincoln," declared Judge Thomas H. Dowd, speaking before 1000 members of the America Plain Council, K. of C., in the hall of the West Roxbury high school yesterday morning. The occasion was the annual communion breakfast, following the receiving of communion by the members at St. Thomas' church, Jamaica plain. Wilfred E. Kelley, PGK, presided.

Judge Dowd continued: "Although I do not agree with all of his principles, especially those that are unfavorable to the land of my father, I do not believe that a man who lays his life down on the altar of American liberty should be treated with such disrespect as was the president, whose leadership, backed by our own boys, won the world war."

He also lauded District Attorney Pelletier and condemned the act of those who are trying to destroy him. He stated that we need public men like the district attorney to lead the people forward instead of backward.

He also remarked that a person cannot declare himself to be in sympathy with the suffering people of Ireland without being called a "hyphenist."

"I am a representative of the land of my father," he said, "and I will give the best that is in me to America. If that is hyphenism, then I am 100 per cent. hyphenist. No man can be a true Catholic unless he is 100 per cent. American. I ask you gentlemen to exercise the right of freedom of speech in the right manner, but do not use it to infringe on the rights of others or to ruin by scandal the reputation that a man has honestly built."

The other speakers were Walter T. Driscoll, G. K.; George F. Doherty and Rt. Rev. Mgr. Edward J. Moriarty.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatres' Own Press Agents)
B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
Miller and Mack, otherwise called "The King Boys," will disport on the stage at the B. F. Keith theatre this week, beginning this afternoon. Since this pair came back from France they have been livelier than ever, and their work has received universal acclaim. These youngsters, for they are that, are full of pep. They sing, they dance, and they sputter comedy. They are really undisciplined as the week's principal feature, although there are several other specialty good acts.

Perhaps you think you can live on air. If you do just get a look at Howard Anderson and Rean Graves in their comely skit, "Living on Air," which will conclude with its specially fine situations. It is the brief story of a husband out of work in New York, and of a wife who really doesn't quite know where they are going to "get off." Fortunately, the husband has a real bump of humor. Life doesn't worry him overmuch, and he proceeds to get busy trying to make both ends meet. Only the humor of the situation carries the wife along. In the end they triumph.

"Portraits Musicals" is the act which Betty Dunn & Co. will produce, assisted by Albert Barne, a violinist. Miss Dunn has assembled some striking airs from opera and balladry, and she has put them into an act which always scores well. She has a splendid voice, and Mr. Barne is a violinist of more than ordinary talent.

If you haven't heard Arthur White-taw, then you haven't heard the raciest Irish chatterbox ever known. White-taw is all Celtic, and he shows it in his selection of stories, and in his very witty comments on everything pertaining to latter day life. Once he starts nothing can stop him. His act will be specially agreeable.

"Courtship of the Bowery" is what Jim McLaughlin and Blanche Evans will present, and it is comedy with dancing features which are well worth while. Ennio and John Nathan are rightly termed the "Radio Fair," for they do gymnastics in evening dress that will astound their audiences. And then there will be the Kinegrams, Topics of the Day and a screen comedy.

OPERA HOUSE

Rex Beach, noted story-writer and well known figure in literary circles, has been responsible for many gripping stories of the Frozen North, but none that compares with his greatest effort, "The Barrier," which was adapted for the stage by Gene W. Presberry, and which will be produced the present week at the Opera House by the Lowell Players. It is said that in this story the author reflects more forcibly than in any other effort, his unusual qualities as a story writer.

During its original run on the stage it created no end of favorable comment from critics of recognized standing, and since then it has been a favorite stock attraction. The management of the Opera House is indeed fortunate in securing it for local consumption at this time, and an appreciative play-going public will certainly avail itself of the rare opportunity which the engagement offers.

Milton Byron and Miss Marguerite Plais will be found in the leading roles. Kenneth Fleming and Maxwell Bristol will be found in good parts in the scenes of the cast will also be assigned to roles best suited to their special qualifications. Director Jack Bennett, whose work in productions has stamped him as one of exceptional judgment and artistic accomplishment, will find ample opportunity to again demonstrate his ability in "The Barrier." The advance sale of tickets indicate another record-breaking attendance. Better order your tickets early and avoid possible disappointment. Telephone 251.

REALTY THEATRE

A man can forget everything his wife tells him except those incidents which occurred before he married her. This is the theme around which is built, "Hush," Clara Kimball Young's latest picture. "If the skeleton in your closet is a pre-marriage tale of love, lock the door and tie the key around a whale's neck" is the philosophy of the production.

The picture opens at the Rhode theatre this afternoon and has in addition

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Tom Meighan in any kind of a picture is a welcome visitor, but Tom Meighan as a two-fisted East side gang leader in a red-blooded picture like "The Frontier of the Stars" is a special treat. This production opened a three days' engagement at the Merrimack Square theatre this afternoon. Mr. Meighan plays the part of "Jack Leslie," a New York gunman. Chased to the roof of a tenement by a detective, he encounters there a pretty crippled girl who has spent her whole life in a wheel-chair and has never been out of the streets. Her innocence and beautiful philosophy of life appeal to "Jack" and in the end she makes a man out of him. Ethel Clayton in "The Price of Possession" is the other big feature for the first half of the week and the bill is well rounded out by a comedy, the International News and Topics of the Day.

THE STRAND
The special attraction at The Strand the entire week, apart from the big triple-feature picture program, will be the first public appearance of Miss Marguerite Morgan of Andover, the 17-year-old wonder girl who will give a short but select piano recital at each performance. Miss Morgan is recognized as a pianist of rare accomplishment and musical lovers of the city and suburbs are assured of a genuine treat. She is a pupil of a protégé of the great Rachmaninoff, and her work at private and semi-public recitals in the other big feature for the first half of the week and the bill is well rounded out by a comedy, the International News and Topics of the Day.

her heart and hand to a designing foreigner. Her friends and relatives are set against the match, but she is obstinate and insists on it being carried through. Driven by desperation her friends contrive a plan whereby her yacht is seized and she is held captive one mile off shore until a change is made. How it is brought about is best told by the picture itself. Don't miss it. "Heart Up" is a real human story with Human Harry Carey in the leading character. It is a story of a girl who believes the man to be her father, while he loves her as a sweetheart. How the tangle of the two lives are straightened out is happily told by the picture. "Sportsman," the newest (and make by Larry Semon, is said to be one of the best comedies that Semon has given the screen. It has a laugh in every foot of the reel. See it.

RUNS DOWN WARNING PAIR

Lynn Autoist, Fearing Hold-up, Refuses to Heed Warning of Men in Road

Wives See Car Hit Husbands—One Killed, Other Seriously Injured

SALEM, March 14.—Fearing that William J. Critch, 45, of 471 Washington street, Lynn, and Lionel C. Soper, 35, of Middlesex avenue, Swampscott, were held-up men, John H. Landergan, 26, of 85 Henry avenue, Lynn, ran them down with his automobile on Highland avenue shortly before 8 last night.

At the time both men were standing in the road with hands up to warn approaching automobiles from crashing into Critch's car, which stood at one side of the roadway with lights out of commission.

Critch and Soper were removed to the Salem hospital, where the former died later. The latter is suffering from a broken leg, a dislocated hip, and bruises on the body.

Critch and Soper, with their wives and Soper's daughter, were driving toward Lynn when the lights of the car went out of commission on Highland avenue, near Park avenue and the Lynn boundary line. Leaving the women in the car, the men got out to see what the trouble was. Within a few minutes they heard an approaching car and stood in the middle of the road with hands thrown over their heads in an effort to stop the oncoming car, which they feared might strike their auto.

The place where the accident occurred is near the Floating Bridge in Lynn, in proximity to the scene of two or three robberies of late, and the driver of the approaching car, who later proved to be Landergan, failed to stop at the signal of the men.

A young woman who was in the car with him also believed the men to be robbers and became much excited. After Landergan's car had knocked the men down he stopped and ascertained from the women in the other car what the trouble was. Landergan said he tried to avoid striking the men.

After removing the injured men to the hospital, Landergan drove to his home in Lynn and later came to this city and talked over the accident with the police officials. Landergan is a son of the late Thomas Landergan, a Lynn shoe concern with the payroll hundreds some years ago while he was accompanying the paymaster of a Lynn shoe concern with the payroll money from the bank to the factory.

Critch, who died at the Salem hospital of internal injuries about 11 o'clock, was proprietor of "The Morning" a lodging house at 471 Washington street, Lynn. He was also a foreman in a Lynn shoe factory.

Held in $2000

SALEM, Mass., March 14.—John H. Landergan of Lynn, who ran down with his automobile and killed William J. Critch of Lynn last night, under the misapprehension that Critch was a motor bandit, was held on a technical charge of manslaughter, at district court this forenoon, in $2000 bail for a hearing in two weeks.

MEMORIAL HOME

Homestead of Clara Barton to Be Restored

WORCESTER, March 14.—The old homestead of Clara Barton in North Oxford was transferred today by Carl O. Carlson to the Woman's National Missionary society of the Universalist church which is to restore the place and make it a memorial home to be used as a resort for visitors.

All the implements that are available having anything to do with Miss Barton's Red Cross work are to be gathered from all parts of the world and made a part of the memorial. In the transfer of the property today, Mrs. Marietta R. Wilkins of Salem, president, and Miss Emma L. Rush of Chelsea, treasurer, represented the Missionary society.

SIXTH DAY OF PRINTERS' STRIKE

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., March 14.—The sixth day of the Binghamton printers' strike found Binghamton without daily papers and both sides preparing for a test of endurance which was expected to start tomorrow when both morning and evening papers, plan to publish. Pickets were placed about the newspaper plants by the strikers last night, but there were no demonstrations. The strikers at a meeting Saturday appointed a committee to ascertain the possibility of purchasing the plant of the late Elmira Herald and moving it to Binghamton to be operated in opposition to the two Binghamton papers which will, it is expected, maintain open shops. A meeting of the business men and advertisers of the city has been called by the chamber of commerce today to discuss the situation.

HELD UP CARD PLAYERS

20 Men Relieved of $1400 in Camp at North Reading—Bandits Escape

NORTH READING, March 14.—A daring and successful hold-up was pulled off at 2 o'clock yesterday morning in a camp on the shores of Martins Pond, where it is alleged that a party of 20 men had gathered for a week-end indulgence in a game of poker. The players, said to be from Reading, Wakefield, Malden, Melrose and Boston, were quickly relieved of $1400 by two men, whose two others covered the crowd with a revolver in each hand, and a fifth man stood guard at the door.

All the visitors wore red handkerchiefs over the lower part of their faces, and after having secured their plunder made a hasty getaway in a high-powered automobile, which moved swiftly in a northerly direction. The players then quickly donned their overcoats and hats and ran to their own automobiles stationed outside the camp, only to find that the visitors had taken the precaution to puncture a tire on each machine so that pursuit would be delayed.

The victims did not notify the police of their loss, but a nearby camper who chanced to see the hurried departure of Chief of Police Hume, who with Constable Hinson arrived at the scene in an hour. Chief Hume telephoned to Lowell, Andover, Reading, Wakefield and adjoining places, but no trace of the men was found.

Chief Hume said that several of the players stated to him that while they were engaged in a game they heard a knock at the door, and when it was opened the muzzles of five revolvers in the hands of five masked men covered the men in the room. The players said they gave over their money without argument.

It is said that the camp is frequently used for parties of a similar nature and that in all probability the five callers knew of the camp and what was going on through attendance at previous sessions.

FR. HOCH REFUSED PASSPORT VISE

NAPLES, March 14.—Father John Hoch, whose passport the American consul here has refused to visa, intends to go to Rome to ask an explanation from the American embassy through the Czechoslovak legation. Later, he intends to go to Vienna and seek permission to enter the United States. He was accused of being an associate of Count Michael Karolyi, former president of the Hungarian republic, who was expelled from Italy two weeks ago.

RELIEF FUND BOOSTED

The relief fund of the Lowell American Legion just received a large addition as the result of a cake sale held Saturday by the Women's auxiliary of the organization at the Gagon store, Merrimack and Palmer streets. The cake and pastry which was placed on sale at the local department store through the courtesy of the management was all of home manufacture and attracted many purchasers. The committee in charge of the affair included: Mrs. M. B. Hart, who acted as chairman, Mrs. George Young, Mrs. Leo Tansey and Miss Mary Tansey.

Nearly 150,000 women in New York state paid tax on 1919 incomes.

Five Quick Effects

When you brush teeth in this way

This new way of tooth brushing brings five desired effects. Some are immediate, all are quick. A ten-day test, which costs you nothing, will clearly show you what they mean to you.

Leading dentists everywhere advise this new-day method. Millions now employ it. You see the results in glistening teeth wherever people gather. Now let your own teeth show them.

You must fight film

Brushing does not save the teeth if you leave the film. That's why well-brushed teeth so often discolor and decay.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The ordinary tooth paste does not end it, so very few people have escaped its damage.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. So dental science has in late years sought ways to fight that film.

Scientific methods

Efficient methods have been found. Able authorities have proved them by many careful tests. The best dental opinion endorses them.

These methods are combined in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. And to let all know its benefits a 10-Day Tube is being sent to everyone who asks.

A 10-day test is free

Pepsodent quickly proves itself. The results are unique and conspicuous. And a book we send tells what each one means.

One ingredient is pepsin. Another multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits that cling. The saliva's alkalinity is multiplied also. That to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay.

Two factors directly attack the film. One of them keeps teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily adhere.

Pepsodent, twice daily, attacks the teeth's chief enemies. Send the coupon for this 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

The results in ten days will amaze and delight you. Make this test now. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

Free

A 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent to show you how to end film. See below.

IN THE POLICE COURT

Old Timers in the Dock—

Officer Breaks Finger

Making Arrest

A grand total of 231 times before the police court bench was established this morning by three old timers, who appeared on charges of drunkenness.

Other offenders charged with drunkenness included Edward Wheeler, who had his case continued to March 24. Bonds of $300 were fixed, as it is alleged that during a scuffle attendant upon the defendant's arrest Officer Conway broke a finger. The case of Fred Elle was fixed. Elle was recently taken into custody with one Adelard Brissette. Elle was charged with drunkenness, as was Brissette, who, however, had an additional charge of assault on Elle booked against him. He was fined $20 on the testimony of various witnesses. These did not include Elle, who, it was stated, had no recollection of the events preceding an alleged wallop handed him by Brissette which resulted in Elle measuring his length on the pavement of Moody street, and remaining there in a condition of oblivion until he was removed to police headquarters. The case of Joseph Baron went over to tomorrow. Officer Sheridan testified that the defendant has been making more or less of a nuisance of himself in Centralville. He was before the court on August 8, and was released, only to return to the precincts of the law on the following day, when he was awarded a three months' suspended house of correction sentence. Bonds of $300 were fixed, and an investigation of the defendant's circumstances will be made.

One young man received probation for a year, while seven others were released by Probation Officer Slattery prior to the convening of court.

Two assault and battery cases were on the docket, but both were continued. Pleasas Silator, arrested by Officer Fred Vinal at Tyngsboro is charged with assault and battery on Jennie Sedliska, of Westford. He will have a hearing Wednesday. Thomas J. Keilcher, who will be heard tomorrow, was held in $300 bonds on charges of assaulting Bernard F. Sheehan on Moody street.

Larceny Cases

The case of Joseph Jasiewicz, 15 years old, charged with larceny from the Bon Marche store, was continued for the juvenile session on Friday, today in the police court. The boy was taken to the Lyman school to await the hearing of his case. It is understood that Jasiewicz is now on parole from that institution. Inspector John A. Walsh made the arrest. It is alleged that the young defendant gained entrance to the Bon Marche establishment by scaling the fire escape located at the rear of the building, reaching the dressing room of the women employees. It is charged, he helped himself to pocketbooks belonging to these.

This is the first case of its kind since the recent epidemic of breaking and entering and larceny by minors which resulted in busy sessions for the juvenile court. A number of local stores were entered by boys in their teens, and merchandise was stolen. The youngsters responsible for the breaks were captured, and admitted their complicity in the cases. A second larceny case came before the court this morning, when Joseph Gaffney appeared on charges of larceny of Jamaica ginger from George Sotiropoulos. The complainant believes that the ginger was resold to him by those responsible for its theft, and it is charged that Gaffney is connected with the case. Another young man was recently arrested charged with the larceny of the "Jagle," but he was dismissed when evidence was lacking to show that he participated in the alleged stealing and subsequent resale of the stuff. Gaffney's name was mentioned during the trial, and the complaint made against him is understood to be the outcome of what developed at that hearing. His case was continued to March 19.

WATER LOW IN THE BOULEVARD WELLS

The comparatively mild winter which Lowell has had this year has tended to reduce the city's available water supply. Ordinarily, between seven and seven and a half million gallons are pumped daily by the water department, but at the present time only six million gallons are coming from the ground. The water in the test wells is four feet below its normal level. Water department officials attribute the drop to the lack of heavy storms, but inasmuch as there has been a corresponding decrease in the consumption of water in the past few weeks, the reduced pumpage has caused no embarrassment. A heavy, soaking rainstorm would bring things back to normal, the department officials say.

HAD GREAT TIME

Lowell Boys and Girls Meet Charlie Chaplin and His Five-Year-Old Artist Friend

That children can appreciate the profundities of philosophy was proved Saturday when throngs of youngsters besieged the entrance to E. P. Keith's theatre, and greeted hilariously the marvelous fooling of Charlie Chaplin, supreme artist in reflecting on the screen the absurdity of existence. The performance was held in the morning, and was exclusively for the boys and girls of Lowell. The program was "The Kid," unproliferated by the addition of cheap pseudo-dramatic films. The price of admission was the same whether one preferred box, orchestra, or the elevation of the balcony. The idea of having a special showing for the kiddies where they would not be obliged to put up with the stupidity of a bunch of uncomprehending adults, was conceived by the management, and the affair amply justified itself by its striking success. Every member of the juvenile audience lived with Charlie and his great artist-friend, five-year-old Jackie Coogan in their fantastic experiences. The Keith orchestra, conducted by Ed Gilmore, furnished the musical accompaniment.

RAILROAD RATES AND WAGES

For some time past, it has been quite evident that the railroads contemplated a cut down of wages as they have been sending out to the press for months past, statements alleging unfair labor conditions as a result of the arrangements made under federal control.

These statements were issued from the office of the Association of Railway Executives in New York. Not knowing how much foundation, if any, there might be for these items charging unfair practices coming down from the days of federal control, we did not publish them. But we give the following as a sample of what has been sent out to the press relative to working conditions on the railroads under federal administration:

"In order to change a nozzle tip in the front end of a locomotive it is necessary:

1-To call a boiler-maker and his helper to open the door, because that is boiler-maker's work;

2-To call a pipeman and his helper to remove the blower pipe, because that is pipeman's work;

3-To call a machinist and his helper to remove the tip, because that is machinist's work.

The same three forces must be employed to put in the new tip. Before federal control a machinist's helper or any handy man put in nozzle tips alone."

That is a mild statement compared to some that were issued from the same source and yet it is difficult to believe it in its entirety.

The railroads have brought proceedings before the Railroad Labor Board to have all the wartime agreements which are now considered unfair abolished. What the outcome on this and other questions involved will be, is problematical.

The railroads have announced sweeping reductions in wages, but the proceedings are likely to be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the Transportation act. As a result of the proposed reductions 100,000 men on New England railroads would be affected. If the railroads bring their employees to an agreement before the reductions take effect, then the requirements of the law will be met. If, however, the employees object, as they certainly will, then the roads must follow the case to the Railroad Labor Board, which will pass upon the proposed wage changes and decide before the increase takes effect, unless the roads adopt the policy of ignoring the law altogether.

The present scale of wages is based upon the existing rates and if wages be reduced, it is but reasonable to assume that rates will also come down, and in the same proportion. The roads complain of a loss of traffic; but this is not due to high wages but rather to high rates; and yet the railroads have been agitating for another increase in rates; particularly on coal, although the rates are now by far the highest on record in this country.

If the wage cut goes into effect, therefore, a cut in rates will also be in order. Traffic on the railroads is affected by high rates, as the trolleys are by high fares—less business. The motor truck is abroad in the land and it is daily taking on a greater volume of the freight business of the country, because it provides cheaper and more prompt service, especially on short hauls.

The whole question of wages and rates is apparently soon to be made the subject of discussion and investigation not only by the Railroad Labor Board, but by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The latter body will have much to do with fixing rates in interstate commerce, while the Labor Board will deal with wages and working conditions on the railroad. It is to be hoped that the decision of both questions will be settled without strikes or interruption of business in any part of the country.

LLOYD GEORGE'S DILEMMA

Lloyd George is losing his reputation as a pacifist of Europe. His application of the war machine to collect debts in Germany has brought him severe criticism in England and on this question he cannot bluff the British people as readily as on the Irish situation. He has been designated the "wizard of politics" because he has been able to extricate himself and his ministry from a great many situations in which he was threatened with political defeat or overthrow.

But not in all Europe is there a more cunning or more unscrupulous politician than the present British premier. An opportunist of the war, he is not in the class of men who have held that office for generations past. The British people look to their premier for high principle, honor, decency and veracity, but for these, Lloyd George substitutes political trickery, hypocrisy, mendacity and disregard of his past policies and pledges.

In the recent London conference, he yielded to Premier Briand and the French military party; and in England there is a feeling that the nation cannot endorse all the policies of France nor be a party to her aggressive attitude toward Germany, especially now when the reparations are to be collected and intercourse established. But if England backed down, France had determined to invade Germany alone and enforce payment. The British premier wants his share and that is his only defense for the policy adopted. Had he taken the opposite course and refused to follow France, the jingo Tories would have crucified him so that it is a question whether in adopting the present course, he has followed the line of least resistance.

If the measure adopted fail to get money from Germany in copious amount, and if probably will fail, then Lloyd George is likely to meet his Waterloo. Meantime nothing will militate so strongly against the premier as passive resistance on the part of Germany and that seems to be the policy which she is now adopting.

After French soldiers had placed wreaths on the graves of their dead fallen across the Rhine, the Germans placed their hats on their heads while the "Marseillaise" was being played. Heine evidently is not susceptible to such blandishments.

Governor Channing Cox says that he is opposed to daylight saving. Let him come up on the sidewalks on the South common in a few weeks and we will speedily convince him of the error of his ways.

The Congressional Record ceases publication today, and the country editor will have to look up a new source of supply for wrappers for sending out his publication.

We are told that eight of the members of the House of Representatives are engaged in a fight, but it remains to be seen whether the statement is a good ad for the educational institutions.

THE FEDERAL PLUM TREE

The faithful are gathering beneath the federal plum tree to wait for the luscious fruit that is about to fall. The trees in the administration's orchard are heavy with ripening postmasterhips, district attorneyships, revenue collectorships and other desirable offices.

Patronage has always been the biter that went with the sweet of the presidential office. No president since Andrew Jackson has been exempt from its terrors. Some have protested against its exactions on their time, their patience, their good nature and their peace of mind. Others have suffered in silence.

A month or so after he was elected, President Harding delicately suggested something of what he was even then enduring from the pursuit of place seekers and their friends.

"Turn the rascals out!" first became a party slogan in the administration of Jackson, who believed in rewarding his friends and giving his enemies what he thought was coming to them.

Up to Jackson's time few men had been removed from federal office for political reasons. President Adams removed only ten men, one a democrat; Jefferson, 89; Madison, 6; Monroe, 9; the younger Adams, 2.

Clay, Callahan and Webster condemned the spoils system, but not until 1871 were steps taken to curb it by civil service regulations. Later the assassination of Garfield by a disappointed spoilsman resulted in an enlargement of the civil service list.

Cleveland at first set his face against spoils, and the beginning of his administration was anything but satisfactory to politicians who wanted a clean sweep. But in the end Cleveland yielded to pressure, and before the third year of his administration had closed, about 45,000 out of 50,000 officeholders had been ousted.

The civil service protection arranged for by Mr. President Wilson is to be overruled in order that postmasters and other officials can be removed to give place to some of the hungry army of office seekers who look to the new administration to place them in government jobs.

THE MAYOR'S ECONOMY

There is very much of an air of "playing politics" in the attitude of Mayor Perry D. Thompson toward the municipal budget. He announces that he will not vote in favor of the adoption of the budget as it at present stands because he believes that it can be reduced $50,000. If the document is passed unchanged, he will have laid the foundations deep and strong for his appearance before the voters next fall with the assertion that he is not responsible for the high tax rate because he refused to vote in favor of the budget that made the rate necessary. The mayor expects this to be a winning issue, and if the people have sufficiently short memories, it may be.

If the mayor is really bent on economy, though, he can very easily save a considerable part of the $50,000 that he is bent on claiming to have wished to save the city treasury by cutting the expenditures authorized in his own department for the isolation hospital; bringing them nearer to the amount that the chamber of commerce committee thinks would suffice.

SOVIETS VS. BOLSHIEVIKI

There is a split between the soviets and the Bolshieviki in Russia. The soviets are rising with revolutionists against the tyrannical methods of the Bolshieviki leaders. The aim is to overthrow the dictatorship and establish representative government. As Trotsky and Lenin have charge of the transportation system, they can prevent the movement of supplies and thus starve out the cities that rise against them. Nevertheless if the people all over Russia rise against the dictators, they may eventually succeed in overthrowing the reign of terror that has swept Russia for the past two years. The trouble is that the people who are opposed to the Bolshieviki are not organized and there is but slight chance of their getting together in sufficient force to achieve their own deliverance.

Lawrence people, whose form of city government is similar to our own, and of which they are becoming exceedingly weary, are invited to come to see at our next city inauguration, and we will show them a new model charter in practical operation.

A daughter of a multimillionaire has wedded a poet, but after reading the following sample we doubt that it was his "poetry" that captivated her. Nevertheless the sky's the limit for the poet's primary impulses, and tedium is thwarted.

Why not provide some of the cops with bladders. Mr. Mayor—it is placing too much of a strain on their optical nerves to expect them to perambulate the streets and not see the many cases of unpaired drunkenness that the rest of us are compelled to scan.

If you do not wholly like all of the features of the proposed new charter, take a look at the conditions of government under the present one and then remember that even half a loaf is better than no bread.

After French soldiers had placed wreaths on the graves of their dead fallen across the Rhine, the Germans placed their hats on their heads while the "Marseillaise" was being played. Heine evidently is not susceptible to such blandishments.

SEEN AND HEARD

A president has his congress on his hands or under his thumb.

Costa Rica has called off its war; couldn't stand the competition of the American baseball season.

German President Ebert "urges dignity," says a cable; how about "virgin payment?"

A little woman plating on a Chelmsford street car recently created a general laugh when, upon leaving the car at Lincoln square, she said to the conductor: "Excuse me, please, but I forgot to pay my fare. I'm sorry, but I forgot to pay my fare."

Out in Montana the legislature has put over a $3 yearly tax on unwed adult males. That's a darn shame. The married man, unless he is getting a real salary of $300 or more is not obliged to pay a federal income tax. His exemptions include $2000 for himself, $500 for his wife and $250 for each child. But the bachelor's exemption only reaches the $1000 mark and on all over that he has to pay 4 per cent. If he were fortunate enough to draw down $3000 a year his federal tax would amount to $120. What more do they want? To remain single is a man's privilege and a whole lot of women would be much better off if the men they married had remained single. Then they married had remained single.

Are You at Fault?

"Thousands of human beings are killed or maimed by automobiles every year. The number of accidents constantly grows, due to two reasons: the increase in population, and the increase in use of the automobile. But the number need not increase, if there is a decrease in carelessness. Most pedestrians will jump at the conclusion that the carelessness referred to is that on the part of the driver. Police Commissioner Enright of New York says that his records show that 78 per cent of the automobile accidents are the fault of pedestrians, falling to cross at corners, running past the traffic officer, jay-walking, running ahead of approaching automobiles. If the pedestrian is 75 per cent responsible and the driver but 22 per cent, responsible for the death toll, who, pray you, should do more to make his own life safer in the streets. And we don't own an auto, either."

Riding Sap

The sap is rising. It's not surprising. When you look around. At night, in the moonlight. But we have soft breezes. And shoots stir in the ground.

The twigs are swelling. The blue jays are telling. More of his smart lies. The pussy-willows are pouring rain. And looks at those glad skies!

It may turn colder. But the sun grows bolder. He's earlier every day. Yes, April's waiting. And nest-building. And planning, I should say.

Our hearts seem lighter. Our thoughts grow brighter. We sort of feel free. And I'm humming a tune. The sap is rising. In us. Don't you agree?

—ALFRED ARNOLD.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The growing of sweet peas is a mighty important subject just now and demands immediate attention. In many an almanac will be found opposite the date, March 17, this St. Patrick's Day—time to sow sweet peas. The secret of successfully growing sweet peas is divulged by an expert. He says: "Sweet peas want root room, rich soil spread deep, with a cool, moist condition about the roots. Dig a trench 12 to 13 inches deep and fill to within six inches of the top with a good mixture of soil and manure and plenty of rotten leaf mold or stable bedding. Fill up gradually as the plants grow, thus keeping the roots down deep."

"Plant the seeds thickly. If you wish to be sure of a good stand, they do not leave more than two plants to a foot, and if the soil is exceptionally rich, one will be enough to each foot of space."

This treatment will assure a great bloom. And the more one picks the more the plants blossom. That means the more pleasure you give to your neighbors by passing along the blossoms, the more blossoms there will be to give away."

A young woman employed at the Bay State Cotton Corp. was given a double surprise during the past week, and unfortunately both were of a rather unpleasant nature. The first was when she filed her return with the internal revenue deputy collector who kindly informed her that her assessment to the federal government in the form of an income tax was $5 and a few cents. She was under the impression that she would not have any income tax to pay, but her wages for the year were over $1000 and hence the $5 assessment. She paid the tax, figuring it would not take her long to make up the amount, but Saturday noon she was informed that her job would remain idle for the next three weeks. "Such luck," she commented. She was advised to get married so as to put an end to all her worries—by letting her husband attend to the income tax matter.

On such a day as Sunday, Nature calls to some of us in a voice that cannot be disobeyed. There is a tone as old as the race that draws us with an irresistible pull away from the places where we know more about our neighbor's business than we often wish we did because the houses are so near together and there is always in the daytime the subtle undertone of the city. Perhaps since "the woods were first planted," a Sunday way out of doors may be excused even for the most puritanical. It was no joking, hurrying auto trip that I made. I walked, except for a short part of the way in an electric car. I knew from past experience what to expect in the country. The city sidewalks and streets were dry enough, but the grass was certainly that I should find the fields still soggy with moisture even on the uplands, and in many places I found snow. I was wise enough to wear heavy overboots, and to save myself the discomfort of dragging them about after head, I started early in the day. Once fairly out in the fields and woods it was almost possible to hear the cooing of the sap in most of the trees. On many of them the buds were beginning to show evidence of swelling, and pussy willows in full bloom were reasonably abundant. Already in sheltered nooks a tuft of green is on the vegetation. Several cabbages, in abundance are not far away. On one sunny sidewalk I came upon the first arbutus I have seen in the vicinity of Lowell, although I presume it may be plentiful enough to those who know where to look for it. The blossoms showed traces of pink and a few days of sunshine will bring them out into their full beauty of color and perfume. And never far away was the trill of a robin.

MOTHER OF 14 SAYS IT'S HER FAMILY MEDICINE

"Tanlac Does What Other Medicines Fail to Do, Declares Lowell Woman—Wouldn't Be Without It"

"I am so grateful for what Tanlac did for me I can hardly express myself," said Mrs. Nellie Dejadon, 238 Moody street, Lowell.

"In all my experience with medicine, and it has been considerable, as I am the mother of fourteen children, I have never seen the equal of Tanlac. Since it helped me so wonderfully, I have adopted it for our family medicine and never expect to be without it in our home. For a year I had stomach trouble in a bad form."

IRISH CONCERT

Entertainment by "Mats" Draws Capacity Audiences

The Mathew Temperance Institute troupe of entertainers was never in better form than yesterday afternoon and evening when the annual Irish concert of the organization, a feature which is looked forward to every year by hundreds, was given at the Lowell Opera House.

Capacity audiences were present at each performance and every number of the program was the signal for an outburst of applause and demands for encores. Rarely have the "Mats" assembled a company of entertainers so talented and few programs of this nature have been presented in which there has been such a variety of numbers. Every number had a touch of Erin and the singers' repertoire ranged from the old classical Irish melodies to the sprightly modern comic songs of today. There were 22 numbers in all with an abundance of extras and the only criticism of the entertainment that one may venture is the fact that it was a bit long. But that did not in the least detract from its quality.

The Mathew chorus of 100 mixed voices was in excellent trim and with John J. Townsend, musical director, wielding the baton, the chorus numbers were given with an infectious enthusiasm and spirit. The stage presented a most attractive appearance, the setting being an Irish woodland scene and the front row sat the soloists arrayed in the picturesque costumes of Ireland. Behind them, in elevated tiers, were the chorus men and women in white with here and there a touch of green.

The opening chorus introduced a medley of well known Irish numbers that have delighted succeeding generations for years. John L. Hamill in "Mother Macneer" was the first soloist and he did justice to this sentimental composition in his usual finished manner. In the duet, "I Love You, Acushla Macneer," Miss Mary and Margaret McPartland once more gave evidence of their beautiful voices.

Miss Marion Sanderson in "Ashore" gave that popular number with much feeling, while Charles J. Keyes in "Along the Rocky Road to Dublin" repeated his previous successes with this number and in his dancing accompaniment gave evidence of his skill as an entertainer.

Edward Donahue sang when "Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and Miss Mary McCarthy in "The Hat My Father Wore Upon St. Patrick's Day" more than delighted her audience. Joseph M. Reilly scored heavily in a particularly sweet ballad, "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen." John F. Roane, Jr. got a big hand in "That Old Irish Mother of Mine" and Misses Alice and Bertha Rogers in "The Irish Duet, There's a Rose in the Garden." In further support of their individual successes of earlier in the evening, Matthew A. Ryan was excellent in his "There's a Typical Tipperary Over Here" and Ed "Tip" Handley of the Honey Boy Four had the audience in an uproar in his character song, "That's How You Can Tell They're Irish." Mr. Handley is also deserving of much commendation for the comely which he injected into the entire performance.

The program closed with an enchanting, "They've Won Every Nation's Battles But Their Own." Patrick Maguire sustained the solo.

John J. Townsend as musical director shared honors for the success of the production with Bernard H. Bourke, stage director, Paul J. Angelo, accompanist, and John W. Sharkey, who presided, the committee in charge was as follows:

Thomas J. Fiehe, chairman; Charles P. Nestor, secretary; John J. Bowers, John J. Callahan, Thomas M. Carly, John Conlen, Edward T. Draper, Thomas J. Durkin, Arthur M. Flaherty, James M. McGovern, Harold McKee, John Mahan, Francis Plunkett, P. Frank Reilly, Bernard H. Bourke, Matthew A. Ryan, John W. Sharkey, J. Frank Sullivan.

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We have had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nineteen days is all they have lived. As I was going to have another, I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth, for this baby is now four months old and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says, 'That is some healthy looking baby.' You have my consent to show this letter."—Mrs. C. W. Benz, 131 3rd Ave., Altoona, Pa.

WHALEERS' LEAD REDUCED BOXERS ARE DUE TODAY

Cut to Three Games—Fall River and Lowell Feature
Managers Say Valger and
Jacks Will Be Here—
Benny Leonard Coming

Fall River's remarkable playing was the feature of the last week's play in the American Roller Polo league. Fred Jean and his Tigers swept undefeated through five games, including two with New Bedford and as a result the Whaleers' lead was cut to three full games.

Next to Fall River's work came the playing of our own Lowell club, which won three and lost three. The club dropped a game to Providence on Monday night, then won here on Tuesday night from Worcester. Going to Worcester Wednesday night the local squad gained a defeat. They laid off on Thursday night. On Friday night New Bedford came here and after a bitterly contested game Lowell came out on top. The complete week Lowell triumphed over the Gold Bugs at Providence on Saturday night.

All teams with the possible exception of Hartford are now playing on a level. And while the battle for the pennant now appears to rest between New Bedford and Fall River, the other clubs still can have an important part in determining the ultimate winner.

The feature of this week's schedule is a "Bob Hart night" at the Crescent rink tomorrow night. Hart, who is playing sensational polo for Worcester and is among the league's leading goal getters, is the only Lowell man in the league and his friends and admirers here are planning to turn out in large numbers tomorrow night to honor him. The Lowell lodge of Elks, the Y.M.C.A. and the K. of C. are to participate in the testimonial and Mayor Thompson will be on hand to extend official greetings.

The complete schedule for this week follows:

Monday: Lowell at Hartford, New Bedford at Providence.
Tuesday: Worcester at Lowell, Fall River at New Bedford.
Wednesday: Providence at Fall River, Worcester at Worcester.
Thursday: Providence at Lowell, New Bedford at Hartford, Worcester at Fall River.
Friday: Fall River at Providence, Hartford at Worcester, Lowell at New Bedford.

LOWELL WINS OVER PROVIDENCE TEAM

PROVIDENCE, March 14.—A big crowd saw the local defeat Providence, 5 to 4, here Saturday night. It was a game sportively played by both teams, with Lowell coming out on top in the third period and getting three to the Gold Bugs 1. Mount Quigley performed at top speed at center, with Harkins and Davies working like demons every minute. Harkins, who took Cusick's place at fullback, did good work. Cusick was held up with a bad ankle, the result of his run-in with Duffene the night before at Lowell. For Providence, Kid McFarlane at Lowell. For Providence, Kid McFarlane and Lyons were good, and Lyons was there at back. Kehoe took Mulhearn's place at center, the latter having been injured by a flying stick. The score:

PROVIDENCE	GOAL TENDERS	AVERAGES
Prosser, Jr.	Ir. R. Williams	Stopped Missed Pct.
Harkins, Jr.	Thompson	5105 167 91.6
Quigley, C.	C. Mulhearn	5379 491 91.6
Finney, B.	L. Lyons	4700 437 91.5

RED SOX REGULARS BEATEN BY "BUSHERS"

BOSTON, March 14.—The Boston Red Sox made their first public appearance of the season at Hot Springs, Ark., yesterday, when they lined up for a practice game against the "Busers," composed largely of recruits and piloted by Joe Bush. The regulars were defeated 4 to 3. Frank Talbot, former Yale star was in the box for the Sox and allowed the winning run on a wild throw.

Billy Southworth and Fred Nicholson, the two pirates acquired by the Boston Braves from the Pittsburgh club, arrived at the training camp at Calverton, Texas, yesterday, dispatches received here today said.

Ray Powell and Walter Cruise got in also. Today the team was scheduled for batting and fielding practice, while Manager Mitchell indicated would be the rule until Thursday when he is to pick the team that will play the Beaumont club of the Texas league in the Braves' first games on Saturday and Sunday.

The effect of between-season trades and hold-outs on the Red Sox first string men and reserve strength is indicated in the lineup of regulars and substitutes in yesterday's game. The batting orders were:

Regulars: Liebold of, Vint 3b, Kurr of, Hendrix in, Collins 1b, Brady 2b, Scott ss, Buel c, Thomahlen p, Jones p, Talbot p.

Yankees: Buckley 1b, Foster 2b, Miller 3b, Bush 1b, Nettie c, Pitterman ss, Keenan c, Chapin c, Fullerton p, Best p, Clayton p.

Liebold was leading batsman with three hits, and Jones showed the best form among the pitchers.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Stanislaus Zwicko, the veteran Polish wrestler, will meet Joe Stecher, former world's catch-as-catch-can champion, in a one fall finish bout here tonight. The winner will challenge Ed (Strangler) Lewis, the champion, to a bout for the title.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

BOSTON, March 14.—The National Indoor Women's Singles Tennis Championship tournament, a bonus on the covered courts of the Longwood Cricket club today with a large entry list that included leading players of the east. Mrs. Mollie Burnsted Malloy, of New York, the former title-holder, seeking to regain her laurels, was faced by strong opponents in the lower half of the draw, including Miss Edith Seymour of Boston, who was a finalist last year, Miss Florence Hallin of New York, Miss Marion Zinderstein of Brookline, and Miss Martha Bayard of Short Hills, N.J. Miss Phyllis Bayard of Philadelphia, was the most prominent player in the upper half. Miss Helene Pellack Falk, last year's winner, will not defend her title.

The national women's doubles and the national mixed doubles championships, will be played later in the week.

WRESTLING NOTES
The members of the Lowell post of the American Legion are slated over the work of Gardini, the Italian champion, here the other night. Not only did he put up a classy exhibition, but his conditions and his promise to come here again at any time made a big hit with those in charge of the bouts.

Jim Prokos, who scored a decisive victory over Romanoff the other night, despite a big weight handicap demonstrated that he is still there at the mat game. He has accepted a flattering offer for a bout in Halifax on March 19.

Ted Apostols was greatly disappointed over his scheduled match falling through the other night. He had trained faithfully for two weeks and was in the pink of condition. The promoters, however, expect to put him on at a later show and the popular and property Ted will continue his work in the gymnasium.

Commander Jim Powers of the local post, who had charge of the wrestling carnival, was well satisfied with the success of the opening show. He worked hard on the plans but he asserted that it was only the beginning of a number of interesting and big class athletic ventures planned by the legion.

BABE RUTH MAKES THREE HOME RUNS

NEW YORK, March 14.—During the game at Shreveport, La., yesterday, in which the New York Americans defeated the Shreveport team, Babe Ruth hit three home runs and three singles in six trips to the plate. He stole two bases and performed brilliantly at first base. The record at Shreveport, who patrolled left field, followed Ruth in the batting order and gathered two singles and a double in five times at bat.

PRINCESS ANASTASIA CONTINUES TO IMPROVE

ATHENS, March 14.—Princess Anastasia, wife of Prince Christopher, who underwent a serious operation last week continues to improve, and is taking solid food. Queen Sophie of Greece and Queen Marie of Rumania, who came to Athens to attend the wedding of Princess Elizabeth of Rumania and Crown Prince George, call on the patient daily.

None of the allied ministers has as yet called on Queen Marie and Earl Grenville, British minister to Greece, is off on a yachting trip, which it is said he undertook so that he could avoid any embarrassment that might be occasioned by her presence in the city.

WOULD BAR SCHOOL TEACHERS WHO SWEAR

BOSTON, March 14.—School teachers who swear when they drive into the rough or lose a game of golf on an easy put were censured by Rev. A. Z. Conrad in the Park street church last night.

"Profane men should be ousted from our schools," he said. "The influence of teachers whose profanity on the golf links is unrestrained, is undesirable for our children. Our school committee should censure men and women of immoral aspirations."

MAKES FOUR HOME RUNS IN ONE GAME

CINCINNATI, Ohio, March 14.—Four home runs and a single out of six times at bat were made yesterday by Sam Bohne, Cincinnati recruit third baseman in a game with the Columbia American association team at Ranger, Texas, according to despatches. Two of the homers were in the same inning. In the ninth Bohne led off with a homer to center. The other Reds hit and Bohne came to bat a second time with the bases filled and two out. This time he sent the ball over the right field fence. "Blitz" Dawson, recruit outfielder, is expected to go to the Bridgeport, Conn., club.

Fiske Co. at Chicopee Resumes Operations.

CHICOPEE, March 14.—The Fiske Rubber company which has been operated on a three day schedule since Dec. 1, today resumed full time and a wage reduction on both day and piece work was put into effect which amounts to an average of 10 per cent. About 1500 employees are affected. Increased overhead expenses under the shortened schedule makes the return to full time and wage reduction necessary, the company states.

A. A. R. I. R. Dist. Convention Condemns Execution of Irish Prisoners

A protest against England's "violation of the rules of civilized warfare" was lodged by 200 delegates representing the fifth congressional district membership of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic, yesterday afternoon at the hotel in Woburn, where a convention was held for the election of officers and for organization purposes. Fifteen councils were represented at the gathering, which arranged to hold its next convocation in Woburn, April 24. The following officers were elected:

Fifth district director, Michael P. Quinn, Lowell; vice president, Frank McDonald, Andover; secretary, Miss Mary McKendry, Lowell; treasurer, Philip Keon, Lowell; district director, Oliver Plunkett, Lowell; district director, Nathan Hale, Peter McKenna; Thomas Nathan Meagher, John Barrett; Capt. Paul Kittredge, Patrick Kano; Col. Guiney, Patrick W. Moran; Gen. Lafayette, John J. O'Connor; Brothers Shears, Collinsville, John Klerman; Patrick Henry, Chelmsford, John Quinn; St. John's, North Chelmsford, M. J. Welch; Andover, John Traynor; Woburn, John Donnan; North Woburn, Mrs. M. J. Butterman; East Woburn, James Harrigan. The membership committee were appointed, one from each council, as follows: Oliver Plunkett, John Moran; Nathan Hale, James O'Sullivan; Thomas P. Meagher, Mary Dillon; Capt. Kittredge, Mrs. Mary Craven; Col. Guiney, James Mullin; Gen. Lafayette, John Curran; Brothers Shears, Collinsville, Patrick O'Neill; Patrick Henry, John Traynor; Robert Donnan, St. John's of North Chelmsford, Brian Hare; Andover, Charles Shorten; Woburn, Henry McLane; North Woburn, James G. Prout; East Woburn, Margaret Dwyer and O'Connell central board of Lowell, Michael J. Sharkey.

Michael J. Sharkey presided, and opened the session by appointing committees on resolutions, credentials and elections. The routine business having been transacted, Mr. Sharkey delivered an address in which he spoke of the vital mission of the A. A. R. I. R. The extermination of the people of Ireland will be the penalty exacted by the oppressors of Ireland, he said, if a failure is registered in the fight to secure independence for Erin. He then detailed the achievements which are already to the credit of the A. A. R. I. R. In the battle for freedom for the Irish people. Many huge obstacles have been overcome by the organization, he told his hearers, and those which still lie in its path must also be removed.

The manifesto which was adopted unanimously by the delegates, states that it speaks for the 12,000 A. A. R. I. R. members in the fifth congressional district, and protests to President Harding, the state department and congress against the acts of the British soldiery and other government forces in Ireland as in violation of the rules of civilized warfare.

We, the members of the American Association for Recognition of the Irish Republic in district convention assembled, and representing as we do 12,000 members, adopt the following appeal to be sent to President Harding, our United States senators and the member of congress from this district:

"As in the past, the president, state department and congress of this republic have interested themselves in the cause of humanity so as to prevent the extermination of peoples and the violation of the laws of civilized warfare, we therefore call to your attention the fact that the British military forces invading the republic of Ireland are shooting the people in their homes, as witness the killing of the mayor and ex-mayor of the city of Limerick, Mayor MacCurtain of Cork and many others, together with numerous attacks upon non-combatants and the widespread destruction of property in different parts of the country, their evident intention being to carry out a war of extermination against the Irish people."

In pursuance of this policy, the British authorities are executing prisoners on such flimsy charges as that of carrying a revolver. Now, that even a British court has declared that a state of war exists in Ireland, we most solemnly protest against such action as a violation of the rules of civilized warfare, and appeal to you to enter protest in accordance with the policy of nations, in the interests of international justice, our common humanity, and the rights of Ireland to freedom and independence."

The meeting closed with the induction into office of the new state district director and other officials, who spoke briefly prior to the motion for adjournment.

CHILDREN'S PARTY

Dancing and miniature pageantry, "A Chinese Fantasy," by Pupils of Mrs. Julia M. Keyes

A most clever and dainty terpsichorean concert entitled "The Eastern Dance," together with a delightfully colorful and of dancing and miniature pageantry called "A Chinese Fantasy," were given by the pupils of Mrs. Julia M. Keyes at her annual children's party, held Saturday afternoon in the hall of the Lowell hotel. The party was given by the pupils of Mrs. Julia M. Keyes, two classes participated, with Master Harlan Kimball and Miss Katherine McQuade, Master James Leighton, Jr., and Miss Jane Wood leading. General dancing followed, and also took place during the intervals between the two feature dances. Many pupils, relatives and friends of the little dancers were present and enjoyed a charming afternoon in consequence of the grace and skill of the star artists.

The Eastern dance was the first of the special numbers. Misses Ruth White, Elizabeth Fisher, Marjorie Willard, Eleanor Chisholm, Sarah Dexter and Gertrude Houshield made gracious and graceful dances in the Chinese dresses with shiny headpieces of the same shade, and with ruffles of deep pink tulle. The pupils were escorted by Misses Barbara Murphy and Dorothy Sargent, who wore warm Eastern pink. Master Leonard Taylor made a rollicking bunny. Favors were distributed from gay baskets. "A Chinese Fantasy," conceived and produced entirely by Mrs. Keyes, told the story of a little Chinese princess who had been sleeping for many days, to the alarm and grief of her friends. All efforts to awaken her had been unavailing, and it was finally decided to hold a festival, in the hope that the gathering of her acquaintances might arouse her from her slumbers. The celebration was dedicated to the goddess of the sun, whose intercession was prayed for. Several dances were given, and the princess, who opened the eyes of the little princess, and even her intimate, Miss Cherry Blossom, danced charmingly by Miss Leighton. Finally the desired result, the princess awoke, and danced for her friends. A most effective symphony of motion and color was this divertissement. First, the little princess, played by Miss Cynthia Thompson, was borne forth by her courtiers, Master Richard Stevens and White. Finally the princess, dressed in blue, white, and yellow, appeared, and the sun goddess in yellow. Ladies in waiting were Misses Eunice Cook and Natalie Gardner. The princess was escorted by Miss Leighton. Fan girls were: Misses Alice Safford, Jessica Allen, Frances Carmichael, Gertrude Donahue, and Priscilla Under Umbrella. The princess, Phyllis Mitchell, Anita Ashberg, Dorothy McKeen and Masters William Fairbanks, Edward Lamson and Herbert Armstrong. Hosts were Masters John Fairbanks, Walter Lindsey, Stephen Mannur, Wheelock Merrill and Robert Carmichael.

The manifesto which was adopted unanimously by the delegates, states that it speaks for the 12,000 A. A. R. I. R. members in the fifth congressional district, and protests to President Harding, the state department and congress against the acts of the British soldiery and other government forces in Ireland as in violation of the rules of civilized warfare.

TOMMY FALL WINS BOUT IN NEW YORK

Tommy Fall of Lowell, who recently won the New England amateur boxing championship in the 104 pound class, returned to Lowell today from New York city, where he participated in the intercity bouts on Friday and Saturday nights. He carried a beautifully engraved gold watch and a handsome gold watch fob, prizes won in the New York bouts.

On Friday night Fall met Willie O'Connell of New York, and after the scheduled distance of three rounds, the judges disagreed on the winner and an extra round was fought. George Brooks of Lowell, who accompanied Fall, said today that the Lowell boy had the bout clearly won after three rounds, and that many of the fans yelled for the decision to be given to Fall. However, it was ruled to be an extra round, and after whirlwind action, the judges again disagreed, but the referee gave the decision to O'Connell. All New York papers report that the Fall-O'Connell bout was the best on the entire program of ten bouts.

There was so much discussion over the bout that on Saturday night the pair were brought together in a special bout. It was a repetition of the first encounter, with the Lowell boy giving a wonderful exhibition of speed and hitting ability. He was out to eliminate all doubt in the minds of the judges and those present of his supremacy over O'Connell and he accomplished his purpose, as he was awarded the unanimous decision. For winning he secured the two prizes, a gold watch and a gold fob. Fall was asked to return here next Saturday night as well as on March 26 to participate in amateur bouts. He was also approached to agree to accompany an All-American team of boxers to Ottawa next month and participate in a big boxing tournament.

Fall is now boxing better than ever and is regarded as one of the leading exponents of the mitt game in the amateur ranks. His work both in Boston and New York, has made him a great favorite and a much sought performer.

HEARING ON PACKING PLANT NEXT WEEK

A final hearing on the petition of Bartholomew Scannell for a license to establish a slaughter house and packing plant on the site of the former Harvard brewery in Payton street will probably be held one week from tonight at city hall. Mayor Thompson said today.

The mayor will bring the matter to the attention of the municipal council at its meeting tomorrow and will suggest that a date be set for the hearing. Inasmuch as the chamber of commerce is sending out questionnaires on the matter and these will not be returned to the chamber until the end of the week, it is the intention of the municipal authorities to defer a hearing until the result of the questionnaire becomes known. Secretary Manager George F. Wells of the chamber has hopes of having the result known by Saturday or early Monday at the latest.

One hearing has already been held on the matter but inasmuch as it was conducted when the proposition was in its infancy, it has been deemed wise to hold another hearing before the matter comes before the council for final decision.

HOLD-UP MAN SHOOTS NEEDHAM GIRL

BOSTON, March 14.—Miss Esther M. Nelson of Gordon terrace, Needham, was shot in the arm at 9:40 last night by a hold-up man, whose command to halt her brother, Carl E. Nelson, driver of the automobile in which she was riding, refused to obey. The shooting occurred on River street, near the Hyde Park-Needham line. There were two other passengers in the car at the time. They and the driver escaped being wounded.

At a lonely spot on the road a man jumped out from the shrubbery holding either a lighted match or a flashlight in his hand. He demanded the machine to stop. Nelson, remembering the stories of the automobile hold-ups he had read, stepped on the gas and rushed past the man, who turned and fired after the machine.

Nelson drove to police station 18, Hyde Park, where the story was told to Lieut. Arnold. Dr. William H. Bennett of River street attended to Miss Nelson's wound. No description could be furnished of the bandit, but the police think he was one of several men, and that the rest were in the bushes beside the road.

ACCEPT MEDIATION BY THE UNITED STATES

GENEVA, March 14.—(By the Associated Press.) The League of Nations yesterday published despatches exchanged between Panama and Costa Rica and Sir Eric Drummond, general secretary of the League of Nations, in which the two republics notified Sir Eric that they had accepted mediation by the United States in their frontier dispute and that hostilities have ceased. Sir Eric, in replying, expressed the pleasure of the council of the League of Nations at the mediation of the United States, which he said seemed a good way for bringing about a settlement of difficulties of two members of the league.

Panama and Costa Rica each holds the other entirely responsible for the difficulty along the border between the two republics. Panama reiterates her refusal to recognize the decision of Chief Justice White of the United States supreme court in delimiting the frontier, and reserves the right to demand an indemnity for the expenses of defensive expeditions. Emphasis is laid on the fact that Costa Rican prisoners and wounded are being well treated by the Panamanians in conformity with international agreement, and as is proper in a civilized country.

Costa Rica in reporting its acceptance of American mediation says: "The conflict has virtually terminated."

U. S. AVIATORS MUST KEEP OUT OF CANADA

NEW YORK, March 14.—American army, navy and civilian air pilots will be prohibited from flying over Canadian territory after May 1, unless the United States government establishes a bureau to issue licenses and register pilots according to the agreement reached at the recent international air convention.

The convention, it was announced yesterday by the Manufacturers Aircraft association, was subscribed to by all the powers, including the United States, and established the unanimous ruling that air pilots should be licensed from their own country, rather than from their own until they received government licenses for air worthiness and responsible operation.

No government board invested with power to issue such licenses exists in this country, although Canada and the larger European powers have such bureaus already in operation.

GRECO-AMERICAN HOUSE BANKRUPT

MILAN, Italy, March 14.—Dizian Brothers, a Greco-American house with branches in the near east and New York city, were declared bankrupt today with debts estimated at 115,000,000 lire. The assets are placed at 130,000,000 lire. The chief creditors are said to be Italian and American banks.

The bankruptcy was due to unfavorable exchange rates and the general fall in prices.

Believe U. S. to Recognize Greek Ruler

ATHENS, March 14.—(By Associated Press.)—Edward Capps, American minister to Greece, retired from his post yesterday, turning over the legation to Barton Hall, the first secretary who will act as charge d'affaires until the arrival of Mr. Capps' successor. In Greek royalist circles Mr. Capps' resignation is interpreted as the first step toward recognition of King Constantine by the new United States administration.

20,000 People Outside Prison

dense throng holding them aloft throughout the long vigil. Here and there priests or women led in prayers or hymns in which everyone joined earnestly. Hundreds kneeling in the roadway were forced to rise when an armored car made its way through the crowd. From 5 o'clock this morning it had moved back and forth in front of the prison. On the roof of the jail overlooking the entrance, a cast-iron sentry-box had been erected overnight from which a soldier kept watch on the crowd.

Two of the men executed, Patrick Moran and Thomas Whelan, were charged with complicity in the killing of intelligence officers in Dublin on November 21, last. Whelan's two brothers are in the United States, one of them in the army. The other four, Frank Flood, Bernard Ryan, Thomas and Patrick Doyle, were executed for participating in an ambush in January in which one member of the attacking party was killed.

Country Stirred

Not since the executions following the 1916 uprising, with the possible exception of the hanging of a woman in November, last, for an attack on a military escort, has Ireland been more profoundly stirred. Although six o'clock had been fixed for the execution of the first pair, it was not until 8:20 that the crowd knew the fate of the prisoners. At that time the following notice was posted outside the jail gates:

The sentence of the law passed on Thomas Whelan and Patrick Moran, found guilty of murder, and on Thomas and Patrick Doyle, Frank Flood and Bernard Ryan, found guilty of high treason in levying war, has been carried into execution."

No hint reached the watching multitude of the grim proceedings going on in a distant wing of the big prison, but hourly, beginning at six o'clock this morning, was heard for a number of reverent voices and the occasional sob of a woman, profound silence was maintained.

Shortly after posting of the notice that the executions had been carried out, the vast gathering dispersed silently, many later attending the funeral of Patrick Doyle's twin-brother, Mrs. Doyle with the other twin in her arm visited her husband yesterday to say good-bye. Mrs. Ryan, who was taken suddenly ill before her husband's sentence was confirmed, was not told until yesterday that he was to be executed. She was conveyed to the prison yesterday afternoon for a farewell visit. Every church was crowded at masses celebrated after the execution for the repose of the men's souls.

The atmosphere of the city was rife with anxiety about developments after the hangings. Except for a few loyal loads of military on the alert with rifles at "the ready" there was a conspicuous absence of crown forces on the streets.

NEW ORGAN PLAYED AND "CREATION" SUNG

To the strains of Haydn's "The Creation," in the presence of an audience that completely filled the auditorium, a remodeled organ was dedicated in the First Congregational church last night. The organist was Ella Leona Gale.

As part of the evening's exercises, Dr. Chauncey J. Hawkins delivered a brief address in which he thanked Deacon Albert D. Carter, whose gift made possible the remodeling of the organ, and there was a brief response by Mr. Carter. In a prayer Dr. Hawkins dedicated the new instrument to the glory of God and the service of the church.

In a musical program preliminary to the singing of parts of "The Creation," the organist gave unusual pleasure by playing two such familiar projections as Handel's "Largo" and Mrs. Adams' "Nearer My God to Thee."

"The Creation" was sung by a chorus of 50 voices under the direction of Harry Hopkins. Andrew A. McCarthy was the baritone and Mrs. Caroline Hooker, the soprano soloist.

The following-named were members of the chorus:

Soprano: Misses Blanche Alexander, Maude Black, Gladys Connard, Edith Harrington, Helen Hayward, Jessie Hanson, Lillian Kilpatrick, Gertrude Kenworthy, Marion McKnight, Hazel Taken, Lily Moran, Theo Morrill, Lillian Powers, Claudia Rivet, Elizabeth Tiffany, Cella Whitot, Mrs. Caroline Hooker, Mrs. Nelson Hill, Mrs. Adeline Kilpatrick, Mrs. Walter Muzzey, Mrs. Ida Stanton, Mrs. Laura Wiggin, Mrs. Charles Zierke; alto: Mrs. Miriam Brown, Mrs. Robert Fulton, Mrs. Horace Hanson, Mrs. Harold McKnight, Mrs. Parkinson, Mrs. Annie Russell, Mrs. George Upton, Misses Jennie Drumm, Greta Darling, Clara Hill, Avis Morrill, Helen Pickles, Josephine Parke, Edith Spencer, Edna Sinner; tenors: Earl W. Costello, Harry A. Hopkins, Norman G. Long, Albert E. Merlino, Joseph Miller, George E. Maguire, Frank L. Orrell, Vernal Roby; basses: Elijah N. Axon, Carl V. Costello, Andrew McCarthy, William McKirroy, George Kidder, Paul Scott, Lisle Sewant and George Upton.

WAS FOUND DEAD

Alfred Lefebvre Overcome By Smoke in Room

Overcome by smoke when the mattress of his bed caught fire early Sunday morning, Alfred Lefebvre, employed in the Massachusetts mills as a carpenter, failed in a desperate attempt to escape from his room at 749 Merrimack street, and was discovered dead by a fellow lodger. A heavy volume of smoke poured from the room occupied by Lefebvre, when the door had been opened, and the man had evidently sought to crawl from his bed and seek safety in the hall. The stifling fumes, however, had rendered him unconscious as he crawled from his bed, and he lay upon the floor of the room. The fire department was immediately called as the mattress was burning. However, as window, door and transom were all closed, there was no draught to aid the flames, and no serious damage was caused to the apartment, the bed alone being burned. An investigation held by Medical Examiner Thomas B. Smith established the fact that the dead man had been a cigarette smoker, and it is thought that Lefebvre fell asleep while smoking, allowing his cigarette to drop on the bed clothing, which took fire.

Lefebvre, it is learned, is survived by four brothers, Auguste, Emil, Lucien and Theophile Lefebvre, and by four sisters, Mrs. Amanda Tremblay, Mrs. Orea Harvey and the Misses Minnie and Virginia Lefebvre. The body was removed to the home of his sister, Mrs. Orea Harvey, 74 Hampden street, Dracut, by Undertakers Amelie Armand, 301 Central street. Deceased was a member of the carpenters' union and of Lowell aeris, 223, Eagles.

The last New Englander to be president of the United States was Franklin Pierce of New Hampshire.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

"If you have a 'dark brown mouth'—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

SINGS LULLABY, THEN KILLS TWO CHILDREN

CHICOPPEE, March 14.—After singing her two children to sleep yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Bertha Wewiorski, 159 Wheatland ave., suddenly became insane, seized an axe and bent out the brains of her two boys, Kasimir, aged 3, and Frank, an 18-month-old baby, and then attempted to commit suicide by beating her head against an iron bedstead. She is not seriously injured.

Neighbors heard the woman singing a lullaby about 3 o'clock and then a few minutes later heard the cries of the children. They investigated and found all the doors of the Wewiorski tenement locked. A search was made for the woman's husband and when he returned home entrance was gained through a window.

The bodies of the two children were in the kitchen and the woman was found unconscious in a bedroom where she had attempted suicide. Physicians were called and worked over the children, but their efforts were useless. That the mania of the woman was to destroy her life was proved by the fact that the gas was found turned on in the house and the rooms were full of gas when opened. Wewiorski stated to the police that his wife had been suffering from violent headaches lately, but gave no indication of being melancholy.

PASSION SUNDAY IN CATHOLIC CHURCHES

Passion Sunday was observed yesterday in all the local Catholic churches. Closing exercises of the women's mission at St. Patrick's church were held yesterday afternoon. The church was filled with the men's mission opened under the direction of the Dominican fathers. The week's mission for men at the Immaculate Conception church came to a close last evening. All these services were largely attended.

The mission for the married men of St. Joseph's and St. Jean Baptiste churches came to a close at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, while the unmarried men of St. Louis and Notre Dame de Lourdes parishes closed their missions at the same time.

Next Thursday evening a three days' retreat for the men of the Sacred Heart parish will open. The Forty Hours' devotion, which began in St. Anthony's church Friday, came to a close last evening when special services were held.

Members of the Mathew-Temperance institute observed their annual communion Sunday yesterday by attending the 7.30 o'clock mass at St. Peter's church in a body. Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph.D., spiritual director of the organization, was the celebrant of the mass. Following the services, the institute returned to their rooms in Central street where breakfast was served and an interesting program of entertainment carried out.

Held Quarterly Communion.

The Y.M.C.A. held its quarterly communion at the 8 o'clock mass in the Immaculate Conception church yesterday. After the mass a communion breakfast was served in the institute hall in Stockpole street, and the members were addressed by Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan, Very Rev. Lawrence P. Tighe, O.M.I., spiritual director of the organization, Rev. Francis T. Curry, O.M.I., and Rev. Clement Flynn, O.M.I. the missionaries who conducted the services during the past week, and President Thomas E. Clark. There has never been such a large attendance at a Y.M.C.A. communion service as there was yesterday. After the breakfast an excellent musical program was carried out. The entertainers included James Clancy, Patrick Maguire, Thomas Kelly, William Moss, Charles J. Keyes, James Carrigan, Frank McCann, Edward Donohue, William O'Connell, Thomas Carlin, Andrew Doyle, Commissioner James E. Donnelly, Alfred Conroy, Warren Kane, George Hamersley, Joseph Craven, Joseph Wedge, Martin O'Connell and Edward Cawley. Arrangements for the Bob Hart night, to be held at the Crescent rink tomorrow night, were discussed.

A WEEK OF BIG SURPRISES THIS WEEK—WATCH THE ROYAL THEATRE

SPECIALLY SELECTED SHOW FOR MONDAY AND TUESDAY ONLY, MARCH 14-15

William Fox has made many big pictures, "Tale of Two Cities," "If I Were King," etc., spectacles and dramas galore. The latest special features were "WILLIAM NEW YORK SLEEPS" and finally the greatest and most dramatic of all—

"The Face at Your Window"

It is even better than "White New York Sleeps." A mysterious crime, a gigantic conspiracy against America, a secret service romance and a patriotic spectacle are combined into the most amazing, the most astounding events ever put on a screen. Filmed in 8 parts, "THE FACE AT YOUR WINDOW," deals with the problems of today. See it and realize just what it means to America and American ideals. Besides it will thrill you, it will keep you tingle with excitement, suspense, mystified beyond belief. A production worthy of its writer, Max Marcin, the famous playwright.

AND REMEMBER other usual features are to be shown such as the 4th episode of "FIGHTING FATE," the 17th of "THE FLAMING DISK," "OPEN ANOTHER BOTTLE," a new comedy play and PATHE NEWS also.

NO ADVANCE IN PRICES

ROBBED BY SOLDIER SHE HAD BEFRIENDED

BOSTON, March 14.—Mrs. Annie Lucas of 43 Louis street, Chelsea, reported to the police yesterday morning that shortly after midnight she had been robbed of $2 by a man whom she had befriended; that he had also ransacked her house. She gave the police the name of the man, who, she said, is in the army and stationed at Camp Devens. Up to a late hour last night no arrest had been made.

Mrs. Lucas said the man had lodged with her before going into the service. He called on her Saturday night and asked for accommodations for the night. She said she provided him with a room.

Shortly after midnight she says the man entered her room and pointing a revolver at her head demanded money. She gave him $2, all she had in the house. He was not satisfied with that and pulled out bureau drawers and through a window.

The bodies of the two children were in the kitchen and the woman was found unconscious in a bedroom where she had attempted suicide. Physicians were called and worked over the children, but their efforts were useless.

That the mania of the woman was to destroy her life was proved by the fact that the gas was found turned on in the house and the rooms were full of gas when opened. Wewiorski stated to the police that his wife had been suffering from violent headaches lately, but gave no indication of being melancholy.

Neighbors heard the woman singing a lullaby about 3 o'clock and then a few minutes later heard the cries of the children. They investigated and found all the doors of the Wewiorski tenement locked. A search was made for the woman's husband and when he returned home entrance was gained through a window.

chairman of the Massachusetts committee for the relief in Ireland, has received the following telegram from Herbert C. Hoover, endorsing the drive for funds for the relief of the suffering in Ireland:

"I am glad to see that you have undertaken direction of funds for relief of suffering in Ireland. I have never believed that race, religion or politics should enter upon question of alleviation of human misery. Your selfless and efficient work, as my associate in administration of commission for relief in Belgium assures me that the work you have undertaken will be efficiently and economically carried out. I could not fail to wish every support to such an effort to relieve human suffering, and hope you will receive the support of the community."

Mrs. Francis B. Slattery has accepted the chairmanship of the woman's committee of the Massachusetts committee for relief in Ireland, with headquarters at 150 Devonshire street, where funds should be sent to Joseph H. O'Neill, treasurer.

Highlands Up In Arms

The statement, which Mr. Robinson does not deny, that he is a rent payer, and some of the folks on the opposite side of the fence are asserting that he would not be quite such a firm defender of the animals if he owned property in the section.

"Are they going to kill the squirrels indiscriminately in the Highlands because one or two of them have damaged property?" said Mr. Robinson. "They have killed six now, but do they know that they have got the right ones? How can they know they have the right ones until the last squirrels are dead and buried, unless they catch each one that they kill actually eating up a building?"

Mr. Robinson spoke of the pleasurs that the squirrels had given to the children of the neighborhood. He said that he was born in Sutton, N. H., and had been familiar with the animals all his life. He said they sometimes did slight damage to buildings, but that a remedy could usually be found without shooting them.

"One friend of mine," continued Mr. Robinson, "placed a chicken wire around part of a building to protect it. I suppose one or two of them have damaged it, rather than kill the beautiful creatures, cut down a tree that was close to his house. These are only sample instances and show that some people care enough for the small animals to take precautions that cost little to safeguard them. They care more for the squirrels and having them about their premises than for the few dollars worth of damage that can be guarded against."

Mr. Robinson asserted that he understood that many boys had been running over the Highlands, armed with rifles, shooting squirrels indiscriminately and saying that they had a right to as their fathers had permits.

Game Warden Talks

Elmer H. Haughton, the game warden, was seen at the home of Mr. Robinson. He was a very much perturbed man. He said that he proposed to do his duty and that he intended to protect the game and property owners. He was inclined to place a limitation on the interpretation of the public statute that would limit killing of squirrels off the actual property of the owner of damaged buildings by saying that an owner could only shoot an animal on the property of another if he had actually seen the animal chewing them.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Robinson, the Sun reporter made an inspection of the premises. To the newspaperman's eyes the damage to the residence did not appear very great. The principal place where it was alleged the squirrels had worked showed an opening about eight inches long by three and one-half inches wide in a blind. A place was shown on a piazza where it was said that two boards had been replaced. Some damage had been done in the barn, and the cupola very nearly put on the blink. Warden Haughton, who stated that he was a carpenter, estimated that it would cost $100 to repair the damage.

Mr. Robinson is in the battle for the animals to a finish he says. He had a conference with Mayor Perry D. Thompson this morning. Later he will attempt to see Mayor Andrew J. Peters of Boston and find out whether it is ever necessary to kill any of the hosts of squirrels on Boston common. Later he may take the matter to the state house. In the meantime he has started a children's crusade to protect the animals.

She leaves four sons, John J., Dennis F., Michael A., and Thomas H. Corcoran, and two daughters, Nellie F. of Lowell and Mary A. of Manchester, N. H.; also eight grandchildren.

Deceased was one of the oldest residents of St. Peter's parish and had always been interested in the charitable organizations and societies attached to the church. She was highly esteemed for her kindness of heart and many other admirable qualities, as shown throughout years of work for the poor of the parish and for every good cause that came within the scope of her aid. She will be mourned by many of the older residents with whom she had been acquainted for over 50 years.

It was brought out that at the request of the local police a young man went to the house of defendant and purchased a bottle of whiskey for which he paid $5. In commenting upon the case, the court said the stuff that was sold at the home was terrible. Sentences were deferred until later.

Francis E. Hays, charged with violation of the liquor laws, was defended and a $1000 bond was issued for his arrest.

court, served two months of his sentence pending the opening of the superior court session, was this morning sentenced to four months at hard labor at the house of correction. He was charged with assault upon Mary E. Lardner, a young girl, and the district attorney asked for a severe sentence saying it is very serious if a young girl cannot go across one of Lowell's streets with a headlamp or a bicycle.

Defendants Ordered

Other defaults were ordered in the following cases: Gregory Kosquoski, charged with carrying a pistol; Joseph Belanger, charged with carrying a pistol; Belanger, lewd and lascivious cohabitation and later he told the court he was not guilty of the offense charged, that the whole thing was a frame-up against him. The defendant addressed the court at length before the court. "No sir," when he had finished, he said he had been a resident of this country for the past seven years, three of which he spent in Lawrence. Sentence was continued to a later date.

When a young girl, charged with assault upon Evelyn M. Moulton, was asked to plead, he said he was not guilty. I understand that you pleaded guilty at the lower court," said the court. "No sir," when he had finished, he said he had been a resident of this country for the past seven years, three of which he spent in Lawrence. Sentence was continued to a later date.

SUPERIOR COURT BOSTON MAN NAMED TRIAL OF WHITE SOX GO TO WORK AT REDUCED WAGES

OPENS HERE
Case of Lowell Woman Held as Witness Placed on File
District Attorney Finds Fault With Action of the Lower Court
Justice Cox Presides at Opening of the Criminal Session Here

When the case of Irene Lease, charged with improper behavior, was called at the criminal session of the superior court, which opened in Lowell this morning, District Attorney Nathan A. Tufts criticized the action of the lower court in sentencing the defendant to the house in jail for the purpose of holding her as a witness in another case, as it was claimed that Mrs. Lease, if released, would return to her husband out west. Counsel for the defendant, who had pleaded guilty to the complaint in the lower court, informed the presiding justice of the superior court that owing to the purpose of the case the judge of the lower court was willing to place the case on file, but when it was learned that she would leave town if released, a direct sentence was imposed.

District Attorney Tufts said the law provided ways and means for the holding of witnesses and in his opinion it was rather unusual to impose a direct sentence simply to hold a witness for another case and on his recommendation the case was placed on file.

The court was scheduled to open at 10 o'clock, but owing to a delay in the arrival of the prisoners, who were brought in an automobile truck over the road from Cambridge, the court did not convene until 10:30 o'clock. Justice Cox presided at the opening of the session and prayer was offered by Rev. N. W. Matthews of the Gethsemane S. M. church.

In the course of the forenoon session several cases were disposed of without trial. The list of jurors for this session is as follows:

The first case called was that of Charles Stahl, charged with violation of the liquor laws, who failed to put in an appearance, because, it was said, he had not been notified by the local police. The district attorney asked that defendant be defaulted, but after Probation Officer Ramsay had informed the court that the defendant had paid $21 of the $30 fine imposed in the lower court, payment having been stopped because Stahl, who now resides in Boston, was out of work, the case was continued to a later date.

The following cases were called and continued to a later date: Bruce B. Kimball, violation of automobile laws; George A. Baron, drunkenness; James L. Ellis, violation of automobile laws; Margaret H. Harkness, violation of liquor laws; Constant D. Rangos, violation of automobile laws; Joseph Newshaw, Gertrude Evans, Agnes Blair, Albin Beaudry, Max Cohen and Gustave Champagne, lead and wanton in their behavior; Stanislaw Janocha, non-support of child.

Liquor Cases Called

Katherine Casey, who in the lower court pleaded not guilty to a charge of illegal sale of liquor, changed her plea this morning and her counsel requested that the case be placed on file.

Six Irishmen Die On Gallows in Dublin

HIGHLANDS UP IN ARMS OVER 20,000 PEOPLE SHOOTING OF GRAY SQUIRRELS

Social ties are being dissolved; life-long friendships being strained to the breaking point; extracts from the public statistics are one of the most powerful forms of literature and underneath an outward appearance of peace and calm the fires of discussion and argument are seething in the section of the Highlands in the vicinity of Tyler park. Six Irishmen die on the gallows, who are now no longer alive, who are claimed to have had unusual and abnormal voracious appetites that they did not make use of with judgment, are at the bottom of all the trouble.

To add to the miniature turmoil a children's crusade is being started to see that no more of the squirrels, who have acquired a taste for life in the aristocratic park of the Tyler park section, shall lose their life by being shot to death by an officer of the state.

Result of Complaint

The break in the monotony of life in the section came about as the result of a complaint to the state fish and game authorities by Thomas G. Robbins of 18 Georgia avenue on March 4 that gray squirrels were doing damage to his property and he wanted to know how to get rid of them. A few days later Raymond J. Kenney, said to be a young man of 19, with his age, according to people of the neighborhood, varying from 15 to 25 years, and a representative of the state fish and game commission visited the premises.

A little later Mr. Kenney wrote to Mr. Robbins that he was "at liberty to destroy the squirrels which are damaging your property in any manner which appears feasible." The letter continued: "I would advise the use of poison."

May Have Made Mistake

It is claimed by some of the Highlands people that the state official made a mistake when he advised the use of poison for killing. They say, and the opinion was borne out today by fish and game authorities, that the law prohibits the killing under any circumstances of any four-footed wild animal by the use of poison except woodchucks and rats.

Mr. Kenney suggests in his letter the use of traps and firecrackers and mentions that it would be well for Mr. Robbins to secure a permit from the police before using a gun. City authorities say that it is doubtful if the city has the right to issue permits for shooting off guns within the city limits and it is not known that any has ever been granted except in the case where a salute was to be fired at a soldier's funeral.

Game Wardens Appear

Next appear upon the scene, upon receipt of an appeal from Mr. Robbins, Fish and Game Wardens Harold L. Crosby and Elmer H. Houghton of Lowell for many years in the service.

Mr. Houghton, with his trusty gun in hand, took up his standing near Robbins' barn. The pop, pop of his fowling piece was heard all over the Tyler park section. There was a rushing of people to doors and windows to be witnesses of what was thought might be the latest act in the hold-up drama. Six gray squirrels lay cold in death when Mr. Houghton extracted the last used shell from his rifle and departed for his home on Westford street.

Within an hour it was known all over the neighborhood that instead of the crime wave having swept up to the rocky edges of the park the treasured friends of the children of the neighborhood had been ruthlessly slaughtered. Then the howl duly started in real earnest.

Loud Protests

There were loud protests against the shooting of the animals. "There was talk of mass meetings, and in a less aristocratic section the aid of Ku Klux might have been advocated to give expression to the feelings of the irritated people."

The Sun told the story of the killing Saturday. The rest of the story is best told in interviews with the parties most interested in the drama that before it is played out to its end may involve the governor, state authorities and Mayor Peters of Boston as it has already entrapped Mayor Perry D. Thompson.

"If I was ugly I could exterminate every squirrel in the Highlands," said Thomas G. Robbins, with offices in the Tibbitts building. "But I am not. I simply desire to protect my property and avoid trouble with my neighbors. I have myself stood not more than 20 feet away and seen the squirrels eating portions of the cupola of my barn. When I threw something at them they simply stood up and looked at me. It is no use for people to say that some other animals did the damage. I didn't use poison because I did not want to subject every cat, dog and child in the neighborhood to danger. They have been getting lots of food and it would have been useless to try to trap them. There is no reason why I should spend my money buying traps. I have only tried to protect my own property as the law gives me the right to do. I have the right to shoot the animals and no one can stop me."

Mr. Robbins asserts that he has the right to shoot the animals anywhere he might see them, even off his own premises, although he would not go as far as to say that he could tote a gun to any likely spot in the city and engage in the pastime of making his little enemies targets for his marksmanship.

Defends the Squirrels

E. D. Robinson, president of the Domestic Mill company, has helped to add fuel to the already lively blaze by his vigorous championship of the cause of the squirrels. Another line of cleavage in the warfare has been added by

CITY TREASURER PLANS TO BORROW $710,000

City Treasurer Fred H. Bourke is preparing to launch on the money market the largest single loan which the city of Lowell has attempted to make in its entire history and which, if successfully negotiated, will bring into the city's coffers a total of $710,000.

The money is not to be used for one purpose, but rather a combination of three individual loans. By grouping them together, the city treasurer hopes to save between $3500 and $5000 in interest charges.

The three loans which Mr. Bourke will attempt to negotiate at once are $450,000 of the new high school authorization of 1919, $200,000 of the memorial auditorium fund and $60,000 for bridge authorized by vote of the municipal council on Feb. 26 or a total of $710,000. The present market rate

LABOR BOARD HEARS R. R. WAGE CONTROVERSY

CHICAGO, March 14.—The railroad labor board today requested four railroad heads to appear before it Wednesday morning to testify in the hearing over the national agreements. The men summoned were T. DeWitt Cuyler, chairman of the association of railroad executives, W. W. Atchafal, vice-president of the Pennsylvania, Carl L. Gary, president of the U. S. Pacific, and R. S. Binkard, assistant to Mr. Cuyler.

The decision to summon the men was made in executive session after Frank P. Walsh, attorney for the four brotherhoods, had refused to go forward with legal testimony unless the witnesses were called.

Mr. Walsh claimed that the railroad had joined with the railroad unions in a concerted attempt to ruin labor unions forever.

20 PERSONS ARRESTED IN CONNECTION WITH RIOTS AT SPRINGFIELD, O., ARRAIGNED

SPRINGFIELD, O., March 14.—More than twenty persons, most of them boys under 20, arrested by the police and military authorities in connection with racial disturbances here, were arraigned in court today. Carrying concealed weapons was the charge against most of them.

The county jail was taxed to capacity with more than fifty prisoners held here. There was a heavy guard of troops around the jail and all persons passing in the vicinity were halted.

Col. Haubrich, in command of troops, and city authorities conferred today to determine whether restrictions against public assemblage, opening of cigar stores, poolrooms and theatres and suspension of transportation should be placed in effect again tonight.

TAKE UP TARIFF AND REVENUE LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Formulation of a definite program for tariff and internal revenue legislation confronted republican members of the senate finance committee and the house ways and means committee today when they met with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon to draft detailed recommendations to be submitted to President Harding.

Whether the enactment of a stop-gap emergency tariff measure should be given precedence over revenue legislation was one of the questions to be decided. Although the republican members of the committee were known to hold divergent views on this point the drift of sentiment appeared to favor an attempt to put through as speedily as possible after convening of congress in April a new emergency tariff measure for the protection of agricultural interests.

BRITISH NAVAL ESTIMATES ANNOUNCED

LONDON, March 14.—The British naval estimates for 1921-22 amount to £91,186,869 gross and £82,470,000 net, it was announced today by Lord Lee of Fairham, First Lord of the Admiralty. He said they were based on the government's policy of maintaining a "one-power standard."

"It is the duty of the admiralty to carry out that policy as economically as possible," Lord Lee's statement continued, "giving full weight to the special geographical, international and other considerations, which have arisen since the war. This they are doing in no mechanical spirit nor with insistence upon numerical equality and recognizing to the full the necessity of reducing expenditure to the lowest limits compatible with national security, the admiralty have effected drastic economies and have agreed to assume risks which, in ordinary circumstances, they would regard as difficult to reconcile with full maintenance of the government's declared policy."

Lord Lee pointed out that the number of capital ships in full commission from twenty to sixteen, as compared with 33 in 1914.

"This is the smallest number that will enable the essential sea-going technical training of officers to be carried out properly," the statement said.

PRO-IRISH MEETING

Speaker at Rome Declares Treatment in Ireland Most Ferocious Crime

ROME, March 13.—A pro-irish meeting held by the popular party in the Eliseo theatre here today was attended by a large crowd and leading members of the Catholic party.

Deputy Borromeo in an address termed the treatment of Ireland a most ferocious crime. He declared the martyrdom of the Irish people was sublime and heroic. He added that England, with its refined cruelty, aimed at destroying the entire Irish nation and its faith. Amid applause he presented George Gavan Duffy, Sinn Fein member of the British house of commons, as the "envoy extraordinary of the government of the Irish republic."

Mr. Duffy said he was glad to see a pro-irish meeting occurring in Rome, the center of Christianity, and was glad a protest had been raised against "the most odious and perfidious tyranny of England."

"England wages war against us because we are Catholics and a rich country," he declared. "England fears us."

The speech of Mr. Duffy was frequently interrupted with applause and at its conclusion there were cries of "Viva Ireland!" "Down With England!" "Down With Lloyd George and King George!"

Deputy Macmillan, one of the leaders of the Catholic party, also delivered an address.

ANTI-JEWISH RIOTS QUELLED IN VIENNA

VIENNA, March 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Anti-Jewish disorders had abated today. They threatened to develop into a serious situation last night, but the police scattered crowds on the streets and prevented loss of life. Shops owned by Jews were damaged by stones and in a few cases Jews were beaten.

The disorders began at the congress of the Austrian anti-semitic association, which has been in session for several days, attended by delegates from 62 chapters in Austria and a few representatives of Bavarian and Hungarian anti-Jewish societies. Speakers advocated pogroms and the organization of Christians in Austria. While this meeting was going on, large crowds assembled in the Rathaus square, where similar addresses were given. Two Jewish students were found in a crowd and were beaten and driven away.

At dusk the meeting broke up and a great crowd swept through the streets singing German songs and shouting, "Away with the Jews." Now and then a tinkle of glass told of a stone being thrown through a window. The crowd moved steadily toward a Jewish quarter of the city but large forces of police had been summoned to bridges across the canal over which the crowds must move to reach the ghetto of Vienna. The rioters were turned back but there was more or less rowdiness and street fighting before the police dispersed the mob.

CHURCH ORGANIST BEATEN TO DEATH

BERTH AMBOY, N. J., March 14.—Attacked by an unknown man Saturday night during a heavy fog, Mrs. Edith Wilson, 26, was strangled and beaten to death with a blackjack in an open lot within a short distance of her home here.

The young woman, who was a church organist, left a girl friend after attending theatre about 9:20, saying she was going to her home a short distance away. About 10 o'clock her mother became alarmed when she did not return and asked neighbors to organize a searching party.

The body was found by the searchers about midnight. There was evidence of a terrific struggle.

Her assailant probably secreted himself behind a hedge on the lot and grasped Mrs. Wilson by the throat as she passed along the street. Although several persons were in nearby homes, no outcries were heard.

Finger print experts from New York have been summoned to examine and photograph the impressions found on the woman's throat. A wisp of blond hair found clutched in her hand was regarded as a valuable clue by the police.

ROBBERS CARRY OFF WORCESTER SAFE

WORCESTER, March 14.—The safe in the Wachusett creamery store at 611 Main street, containing $500 and books and papers, was stolen Saturday night. Yesterday Chief Thomas Dolan of the Milbury police telephoned that the safe was lying by the roadside in that town near the farm of Thomas Davidson, smashed and money gone. It evidently had been smashed open with a sledgehammer and chisel.

Worcester police say a key was used to unlock the front door, that the thieves watched their chance during the hard storm of Saturday night to carry the safe, which is a small one out to the street and load it into an automobile.

Elderly People Need This In Medicine Chest

To relieve chronic constipation, always keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin handy.

NEARLY all people as they advance in age suffer from chronic constipation. Many, however, are indifferent to the laxative they use, on the theory that "they are all alike." That is a great mistake.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, for example, is a mild, gentle liquid laxative, and it does not lose its effect with repeated use. It so trains the bowel muscles that in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with.

A sixty-cent bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will last many months. The prescription was written thirty years ago by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, a well-known family doctor, who is himself now in his 82nd year and can appreciate what chronic constipation must mean to elderly people; how it brings on headaches, colds, loss of appetite and sleep, heaviness and a general dull feeling.

Every home that has an elderly man or woman should be provided with a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Eight million bottles were bought at drug stores last year. It is a truly wonderful constipation remedy.

TRY IT FREE
Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 513 Washington Street, Monaca, Illinois. Every body now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

JUDGE DOWD LAUDS WILSON AND PELLETIER

BOSTON, March 17.—Woodrow Wilson was one of the greatest presidents and his name will go down in history with that of Washington and Lincoln," declared Judge Thomas H. Dowd, speaking before 1000 members of Jamaica Plain Council, K. of C., in the hall of the West Roxbury high school yesterday morning. The occasion was the annual communion breakfast, following the receiving of communion by the members at St. Thomas' church, Jamaica plain. Wilfred F. Kelley, PGC, presided.

Judge Dowd continued: "Although I do not agree with all of his principles especially those that are unfavorable to the land of my father, I do not believe that a man who lays his life down on the altar of American liberty should be treated with such disrespect as the president, whose leadership, backed by our own boys, won the world war."

He also lauded District Attorney Pelletier and condemned the act of those "who are trying to destroy him." He stated that we need public men like the district attorney to lead the people forward instead of backward.

He also remarked that a person cannot declare himself to be in sympathy with the suffering people of Ireland without being called a "hyphenist."

"I am a representative of the land of my father," he said, "and I will give the best that is in me to America. If that is hyphenism, then I am 100 per cent. hyphenist. No man can be a true Catholic unless he is 100 per cent. American. I ask you gentlemen to exercise the right of freedom of speech in the right manner, but do not use it to infringe on the rights of others or to ruin by scandal the reputation of a man who has honestly built."

The other speakers were Walter T. Driscoll, G. K. George F. Doherty and Rt. Rev. Mgr. Edward J. Moriarty.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatres' Own Press Agents)

H. F. KELTH'S THEATRE
Miller and Mack, otherwise called "The Bing Boys," will disport on the stage at the H. F. Kelth theatre, this week, beginning this afternoon. Since this pair came back from France they have been livelier than ever, and their work has received universal acclaim. These youngsters, for they are that, are full of pep. They sing, they dance and they perform comedy. They are really underlined as the week's principal feature, although there are several other specially good acts.

Perhaps you think you can live on air. If you do just get a look at Howard Anderson and Ken Graves in their comedy play, "Living on Air," which will convulse with its specially fine situations. It is the brief story of a husband out of work in New York, and of a wife who really doesn't quite know where they are going to "get off." Fortunately, this husband has a real bump of humor. Life doesn't worry him overmuch, and he proceeds to get busy trying to make both ends meet. Only the humor of the situation carries the wife along. In the end they triumph.

"Portraits Musicals" is the act which Betty Dunn and Cecil will present, assisted by Robert Berns, a violinist. Miss Dunn has assembled some striking airs from opera and balladry, and she has put them into an act which always scores well. She has a splendid voice, and Mr. Berns is a violinist of more than ordinary talent.

If you haven't heard Arthur Whitehead, then you haven't heard the raciest Irish character in the city. Whitehead is all Celtic, and he shows it in his selection of stories, and in his very witty comments on everything pertaining to latter day life. Once he starts nothing can stop him. His act will be specially agreeable.

"Courtship on the Bowery" is the act which Jim McLaughlin and Blanche Evans will present, and it is comedy with dancing stories which are well worth while. Emilie and John Nathan are rightly termed the "Agile Pair," for they do gymnastics in evening dress that will astound their audience. And then there will be the Kinograms, Topics of the Day and a screen comedy.

OPERA HOUSE

Rex Beach, noted story-writer and well known figure in literary circles, has been responsible for many gripping stories of the Frozen North, but none that compares with his greatest effort, "The Barrier," which was adapted for the stage by Gene W. Prentiss, and which will be produced the present week at the Opera House by the Lowell Players. It is said that in this story the author reflects more richly than in any other effort, his unusual qualities as a story writer. During its original run on the stage it created no end of favorable comment for merit of recognized standing, and since then it has been a favorite stock attraction. The management of the Opera House is indeed fortunate in securing it for local consumption at this time and an appreciative audience will certainly avail itself of the rare opportunity which the engagement offers.

Milton Byron and Miss Marguerite Fields will be found in the leading roles. Kenneth Fleming and Maxine Driscoll will be found in good parts and the others of the cast will also be assigned to roles best suited to their special qualifications.

THE STRAND

The special attraction at The Strand the entire week, apart from the big triple-feature picture program, will be the first public appearance of Miss Marguerite Morgan of Andover, the 17-year-old wonder girl who will give a show-but select piano recital at each performance. Miss Morgan is recognized as a pianist of rare accomplishment and music lovers of the city and suburbs are assured of a genuine treat. She is a pupil of a protégé of the great Rachmaninoff and has never been on the streets. Her life and beautiful philosophy of life appeal to "Buck" and in the end she makes a man out of him. Ethel Clayton in "The Price of Passion" is the other big feature for the first half of the week and the bill is well rounded out by "The International News and Topics of the Day."

DOMINICK SQUARE THEATRE

Tom Meighan in any kind of a picture is a welcome visitor, but Tom Meighan as a two-faced East Side gang leader in a red-blooded picture like "The Frontier of the Stars" is a special treat. This production opened a three days' engagement at the Merrimack Square Theatre this afternoon. Mr. Meighan plays the part of "Buck Leary," a New York gunman. Cloned to the roof of a tenement by a detective, he encounters there a pretty crime girl who has spent her whole life in a tenement and has never been on the streets. Her life and beautiful philosophy of life appeal to "Buck" and in the end she makes a man out of him. Ethel Clayton in "The Price of Passion" is the other big feature for the first half of the week and the bill is well rounded out by "The International News and Topics of the Day."

OPERA HOUSE

A man can forgive everything his wife tells him except those incidents which occurred before he married her. This is the theme around which is built, "Hush," Clara Kimball Young's latest picture. "If the skeleton in your closet is a pre-marriage false step, lock the door and tie the key around a whale's neck" is the philosophy of the production.

The picture opens at the Bialto theatre this afternoon and has in addition

NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS FOR LAWRENCE

LAWRENCE, March 14.—Plans for two school buildings, one an addition to the high school, which will increase the accommodations from 800 pupils to 2000, and the other in Irving avenue school to be built in Irving avenue to accommodate 1000 boys and girls, have been approved by the school committee. The architect for each school is James P. Allen, who prepared the plans for the present Oliver grammar school.

The addition to the high school will face on Haverhill street. Several residences will be razed to make room for it. Besides commodious classrooms and special arrangements for the mechanical departments, the addition will contain a lunchroom which will seat 700, and two spacious gymnasiums, one for boys and one for girls. The addition, equipped, will, it is estimated, cost $350,000.

GAVE ILLUSTRATED LECTURE ON IRELAND

Col. C. H. French, a lecturer who has traveled extensively in Ireland and given much study to Irish conditions, gave an illustrated lecture on that country in Associate hall yesterday afternoon and evening as part of the observance of St. Patrick's day here under the auspices of the United Irish societies. At the evening lecture the hall was crowded and there was also a large attendance in the afternoon. The proceeds of the affair are to be devoted to relief work in Ireland.

Before showing some 300 stereoscopic views of conditions across the sea, Col. French sketched briefly the history of the Irish land movement, going back as far as the first invasion of Ireland by Sirghow and coming down to the present day. He depicted the suffering which succeeding generations of Irishmen have had to bear and his sketch of the evictions in the eighties was made even more graphic by stereoscopic slides.

The speaker said that English invasion of Ireland began two years after the founding of Oxford university in 1167 and has kept up to the present day. He charged England with gripping the country by the throat in the face of organized rebellion. Every generation has had its share of famine and slaughter and the incessant struggle for independence. For 750 years hatred of England has been instinctive in Irish hearts, but let England turn around and give Ireland her freedom and she will find no more faithful friends in the world than the Irish, the speaker said. He described the Irish among whom he went as a stranger, not of their race, as the most kindly and hospitable people to be found anywhere.

He described in detail the sufferings of the Irish during the reigns of Queen Elizabeth, Charles I. and Cromwell, the seizure of fertile land in the reign of James II. and William of Orange and the so-called act of union in the time of Gladstone. He told of the systematic colonization of the land by

SPRING DEBILITY

Loss of Appetite, That Tired Feeling and Sometimes Eruptions.

Thousands take Hood's Sarsaparilla as a spring medicine for that tired feeling, nervous weakness, impure blood, and say it makes them feel better, eat and sleep better, and "makes food taste good."

Spring debility is a condition in which it is especially hard to combat disease germs, which invade the system here, there and everywhere. The white blood corpuscles, sometimes called "the little soldiers in the blood," because it is their duty to fight disease germs, are too weak to do good service.

Hood's Sarsaparilla strengthens the "little soldiers" and enables them to repel germs of grip, influenza, fevers and other ailments; relieves catarrh and rheumatism. It has given satisfaction to three generations. Get it today, and for a laxative take Hood's Pills.

English agents and the driving of the natives to the hills and mountains, so that they were forced to emigrate to other lands. England's lordship over Ireland, he said, was one of the worst cases of criminal intrusion in the annals of history.

At this point, Col. French threw further views on the screen, dealing with all sections of Ireland and leading up to the present military occupation of the country. His views and his talk were received with frequent applause. The lecture was preceded by a brief concert by several Boston entertainers in which as well as in the lecture the audience was somewhat disappointed.

NOW FOR GOOD, CLEAN WHITEWASH

IMPORTANT DIRECTIONS—

GLEN FORREST LIME is recommended at Coburn's for making whitewash that gives excellent satisfaction. This lime comes unstacked. Hot or cold water added to the lumpy lime will slacken it for whitewash. When the water is added it will be noticed that the lime boils or seethes. Let the lime set until this boiling condition has passed, as the seething lime is apt to ruin your brush. Experienced users protect their brushes by allowing the lime to set in about the same consistency as putty, one day, the next day adding more water until the whitewash is ready to apply. Buy the lime at Coburn's.

BODY RECOVERED

The body of Raymond A. Mochrie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mochrie of Dracut, who was drowned in Beaver brook near the plant of the Merrimack Woolen Co. at the Navy Yard Dec. 21, was recovered late Saturday afternoon by boys, who saw it floating down the stream. Medical Examiner J. E. Smith viewed the remains, which were later removed to the funeral parlors of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons. Besides his parents, the boy leaves three sisters, Marion, Margaret and Helen Mochrie.

BULLERICK NEWS

There are six candidates for the position of inspector of buildings for the town of Bullerick to which the salary of $100 per annum is attached. The position was created several years ago, when the town adapted a set of laws to govern all building operations, but because of the limited number of houses that have been erected in the town, the position was never filled. It is expected, however, that the selection will soon appoint an inspector and accordingly there are candidates galore.

RUNS DOWN WARNING PAIR

Lynn Autoist, Fearing Hold-up, Refuses to Heed Warning of Men in Road

Wives See Car Hit Husbands—One Killed, Other Seriously Injured

SALEM, March 14.—Fearing that William J. Critch, 48, of 471 Washington street, Lynn, and Lionel C. Soper, 35, of Middlesex avenue, Swampscott, were held-up men, John H. Landergan, 26, of 65 Henry avenue, Lynn, ran them down with his automobile on Highland avenue shortly before 8 last night.

At the time both men were standing in the road with hands up to warn approaching automobiles from crashing into Critch's car, which stood at one side of the roadway with lights out of commission.

Critch and Soper were removed to the Salem hospital, where the former died later. The latter is suffering from a broken leg, a dislocated hip, and bruises on the body.

Critch and Soper, with their wives and Soper's daughter, were driving toward Lynn when the lights of the car went out of commission on Highland avenue, near Park avenue and the Lynn boundary line. Leaving the women in the car, the men got out to see what the trouble was.

Within a few minutes they heard an approaching car and stood in the middle of the road with hands thrown over their heads in an effort to stop the oncoming car, which they feared might strike their auto.

The place where the accident occurred is near the Floating Bridge in Lynn, in proximity to the scene of two other robberies of late, and the driver of the approaching car, who later proved to be Landergan, failed to stop at the signal of the men.

A young woman who was in the car with him also believed the men to be robbers and became much excited. After Landergan's car had knocked the men down, he stopped and ascertained from the women in the other car what the trouble was. Landergan said he tried to avoid striking the men.

RUSSIAN REVOLUTION HELD UP CARD PLAYERS

Moscow Rising Quelled—Krasnyu Gorka Recaptured by Soviet Forces

COPENHAGEN, March 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Advisers from Helsinki state today that Krasnyu Gorka has been recaptured from the Russian revolutionaries by Soviet troops and the garrison now consists chiefly of a cadet corps. Leon Trotsky, the Soviet war minister, has ordered his headquarters to Granchanov on the Gulf of Finland opposite Kronstadt, after executing M. Kolesov, chief officer of the flying station and 41 other rebels, advisers say.

The Moscow rising is reported to have been quelled after the severest fighting. Conditions in Kronstadt are said to be serious owing to the lack of food, none having been received from the American Red Cross or the Finnish relief depots. Because of the large civilian population, which includes 700 children, the garrison's rations are extremely scanty.

20 Men Relieved of $1400 in Camp at North Reading—Bandits Escape

NORTH READING, March 14.—A daring and successful hold-up was pulled off at 2 o'clock yesterday morning in a camp on the shores of Martins Pond, where it is alleged that a party of 20 men had gathered for a week-end indulgence in a game of poker. The players, said to be from Reading, Wakefield, Malden, Melrose and Boston, were quickly relieved of $1400 by two men, while two others covered the crowd with a revolver in each hand, and a fifth man stood guard at the door.

All the visitors were red handkerchiefs over the lower part of their faces, and after having secured their plunder made a hasty getaway in a high-powered automobile, which moved swiftly in northerly direction. The players then quickly donned their overcoats and hats and ran to their own automobiles stationed outside the camp, only to find that the visitors had taken the precaution to puncture a tire on each machine so that pursuit would be delayed.

The victims did not notify the police of their loss, but a nearby camper who chanced to see the hurried departure told Chief of Police Hume, who with Constable Hannon arrived at the scene in an hour. Chief Hume telephoned to Lowell, Andover, Reading, Wakefield and adjoining places, but no trace of the men was found.

PORT OF POTI, GEORGIA, TAKEN BY BOLSHEVIKI

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 13.—The seaport of Poti, Georgia, on the Black sea, north of Batumi, has been occupied by the bolsheviks, says a dispatch received here today. The retiring Georgians burned the coal sheds and left the port on steamers in a severe storm. The Turkish nationalists who recently occupied Batumi are said to be determining all incoming Georgian soldiers, and the town of Kutais, 69 miles east of Poti, has been looted. Georgian civilians have been executed in Tiflis by the bolsheviks who occupied the city in revenge for the execution of the bolshevik mission there by the Georgians before the latter retired.

The Princess Ratiff, sister-in-law of Norman Whitehouse of New York, who was sent to the Caucasus on a mission for the American peace delegation in Paris in 1919, has arrived here aboard the American destroyer Whipple. She escaped from Tiflis when it was taken by the bolsheviks and desires to go to the United States.

ANOTHER GERMAN TOWN OCCUPIED BY ALLIES

DUESSELDORF, March 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—The town of Hamm, five miles northeast of Ruhrort, was included in the area of Germany under occupation by the allies in an order issued today by the military authorities. A state of siege has been proclaimed in Hamm, but no German has been stationed there. The allied order says that all arms, including hunting pieces and sabres must be turned over by tonight and all former German army officers must register before tomorrow night.

A meeting of independent socialists was held here yesterday to protest against the allied measures and especially against the infliction of the penalties.

BANGOR AND AROOSTOOK R. R. TO CUT WAGES

BANGOR, Maine, March 14.—The Bangor and Aroostook Railroad today announced its intention to reduce wages of all classes of employees whose rates of pay were increased in accordance with the decision of the railroad labor board, effective last May. The reduction will take effect April 15 and the amounts will depend on the result of conferences with the road and unions, it will hold its early date with representatives of the employees.

The rates of pay established for the employees, partly as the result of the high cost of living, during and after the war, says the circular issued to the employees, never seemed to be just and reasonable rates for this territory. It is apparent also that there has been a material reduction in the cost of living and of wages paid in other industries.

One count of these rates of pay being unreasonable, the time has arrived when some reduction in wages must be made.

Since the government took over the road early in 1918, the payroll has been increased $2,100,000.

HEARING ON PACKING PLANT NEXT WEEK

A final hearing on the petition of Bartholomew Scannell for a license to establish a slaughter house and packing plant on the site of the former Harvard brewery in Payson street will probably be held one week from tonight at city hall, Mayor Thompson said today.

The mayor will bring the matter to the attention of the municipal council at its meeting tomorrow and will suggest that a date be set for the hearing. Inasmuch as the chamber of commerce is sending out questionnaires on the matter and these will not be returned to the chamber rooms before the end of the week, it is the intention of the municipal authorities to defer a hearing until the result of the questionnaire becomes known. Secretary-Manager George F. Wells of the chamber has hopes of having the result known by Saturday or early Monday at the latest.

One hearing has already been held on the matter but inasmuch as it was conducted when the proposition was in its infancy, it has been deemed wise to hold another hearing before the matter comes before the council for final decision.

OPPOSITION PARTY WINS IN NEWFOUNDLAND

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., March 14.—The opposition party in the Newfoundland legislature today regained the two seats lost in the Harbor Main district last June when Messrs. Woodford and Jones were unseated by the superior court for violation of election laws.

Count of the votes cast Saturday in the Harbor Main by-election showed that Jones had been returned again and with him Lewis who ran in place of Woodford. The final vote announced today was: Oppositionists—Jones 1092; Lewis 1082; government—Fury, 555; Brown, 235. The supreme court in its decision vacating the Harbor Main seats ruled that Woodford had been guilty of corrupt practices and that Jones had also violated laws. Jones defeated are followers of Premier Seavoyer's local organization.

EASTER GOODS ARE DAMAGED BY WATER

A miniature indoor flood which compelled the evacuation of the fire department, including the Protective company, and caused $500 damage to new Easter apparel for men, occurred yesterday at the Talbot clothing store in Central street. When a water pipe in the New American hotel sprang a leak, it was announced that the goods damaged by the dripping water were not covered by insurance from accidents of this nature. The leak first came to the attention of the authorities when Officer Linnane, who was patrolling his beat in Central street, noticed that there was water on the floor in the Talbot establishment. He notified one of the owners of the company, and the fire department was called. The goods were placed over the stock by the Protective company, representing largely any further damage. Before the leak could be stopped, however, the Protective company had to be called again, as dripping continued throughout the day. A large supply of men's new clothing, not only worn placed in the establishment for the accommodation of the latter trade, and some of the new goods suffered damage from the water.

THREATEN TO KILL REV. J. O. L. SPRACKLIN

PARIS, Ontario, March 14.—Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, who recently was acquitted of a charge of manslaughter in connection with a liquor raid and who now is campaigning throughout Ontario on behalf of prohibition, declared here today that he had received a threat from a local prohibitionist organization. He said he had been warned to beware from the fact that he had been acquitted.

"I intend to disregard this message entirely," he added.

MEMORIAL HOME Homestead of Clara Barton to Be Restored

WORCESTER, March 14.—The old homestead of Clara Barton in North Oxford was transferred today by Carl C. Carlson to the Woman's National Missionary society of the Universalist church, which is to restore the place and make it a memorial home to be used as a resort for visitors.

PERSECUTION OF GREEKS AND TURKS

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 13.—Charges and counter-charges of persecution are being made by the Greeks and Turkish nationalists. The Greeks assert that the nationalists are persecuting Greeks priests in the Pontus district of Asia Minor, while the nationalists charge that the Greeks are imprisoning large numbers of Turks in Smyrna and in Thrace.

SIXTH DAY OF PRINTERS' STRIKE

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., March 14.—The sixth day of the Binghamton printers' strike found Binghamton without daily papers and both sides preparing for a test of endurance which was expected to start tomorrow when both morning and evening papers, plan to publish. Pickets were placed about the newspaper plants by the strikers last night, but there were no demonstrations.

RELIEF FUND BOOSTED

The relief fund of the Lowell American Legion post received a large addition as the result of a cake sale held Sunday at the Women's auxiliary of the organization at the Gagon store, Merrimack and Palmer streets. The cake and pastry which was placed on sale at the local department store through the courtesy of the management was all of home manufacture, and attracted many purchasers. The committee in charge of the affair included Mrs. E. H. Hart, who acted as chairman, Mrs. George Taylor, Mrs. Leo Tancay and Miss Mary Tancay.

IN THE POLICE COURT

Old Timers in the Dock—
Officer Breaks Finger
Making Arrest

A grand total of 237 times before the police court bench was established this morning by three old timers, who appeared on charges of drunkenness.

Other offenders charged with drunkenness included Edward Wheeler, who had his case continued to March 24. Bonds of $300 were fixed, as it is alleged that during a scuffle attendant upon the defendant's arrest Officer Conway broke a finger. The case of Fred Elle was filed. Elle was recently taken into custody with one Adelard Brissette. Elle was charged with drunkenness, as was Brissette, who, however, had an additional charge of assault on Elle booked against him. He was fined $20 on the testimony of various witnesses. These did not include Elle, who, it was stated, had no recollection of the events preceding an alleged wallp handing in by Brissette which resulted in Elle measuring his length on the pavement of Moody street, and remaining there in a condition of oblivion until he was removed to police headquarters. The case of Joseph Sheridan went over to tomorrow. Officer Sheridan testified that the defendant has been making more or less of a nuisance of himself in Centerville. He was before the court on August 8, and was released, only to return to the precincts of the law on the following day, when he was awarded a three months' suspended house of correction sentence. Bonds of $300 were fixed, and an investigation of the defendant's circumstances was to be made.

One young man received probation for a year, while seven others were released by Probation Officer Slattery prior to the convening of court.

Two assault and battery cases were on the docket, but both were continued. Pievas Stalar, arrested by Officer Fred Vinal at Tynsboro is charged with assault and battery on Jennie Rediska, of Westford. He will have a hearing Wednesday. Thomas J. Keil, who will be heard tomorrow, was held in $300 bonds on charges of assaulting Bernard P. Sheehan on Moody street.

Larceny Cases

The case of Joseph Jasiewicz, 18 years old, charged with larceny from the Bon Marche store, was continued for the juvenile session on Friday, today in the police court. The boy was taken to the Lyman school to await the hearing of his case. It is understood that Jasiewicz is now on parole from that institution. Inspector John A. Walsh made the arrest. It is alleged that the young defendant gained entrance to the Bon Marche establishment by scaling the fire escape located at the rear of the building. Reaching the dressing room of the women employees, it is charged, he helped himself to pocketbooks belonging to these. This is the first case of its kind since the recent epidemic of breaking and entering and larceny by minors which resulted in busy sessions for the juvenile court. A number of local stores were entered by boys in their teens, and merchandise was stolen. The youngsters responsible for the breaks were captured, and admitted their complicity in the cases. A second larceny case came before the court this morning, when Joseph Gaffney appeared on charges of larceny of Jamaica ginger from George Sotiropoulos. The complainant believes that the ginger was resold to him by those responsible for its theft, and it is charged that Gaffney is connected with the case. Another young man was recently arrested charged with the larceny of the "jakie," but he was dismissed when evidence was lacking to show that he participated in the alleged stealing and subsequent resale of the stuff. Gaffney's name was mentioned during the trial, and the complaint made against him is understood to be the outcome of what developed at that hearing. His case was continued to March 15.

WATER LOW IN THE BOULEVARD WELLS

The comparatively mild winter which Lowell has had this year has tended to reduce the city's available water supply. Ordinarily, between seven and seven and a half million gallons are pumped daily by the water department, but at the present time only six million gallons are coming from the ground. The water in the test wells is four feet below its normal level. Water department officials attribute the drop to the lack of heavy storms, but inasmuch as there has been a corresponding decrease in the consumption of water in the past few weeks, the reduced pumpage has caused no embarrassment. A heavy, soaking rainstorm would bring things back to normal, the department officials say.

HAD GREAT TIME

Lowell Boys and Girls Meet Charlie Chaplin and His Five-Year-Old Artist Friend

That children can appreciate the profundities of philosophy was proved Saturday when throngs of youngsters besieged the entrance to B. F. Keid's theatre, and greeted hilariously the marvellous tooting of Charlie Chaplin, supreme artist in reflecting on the screen the absurdity of existence. The performance was held in the morning, and was exclusively for the boys and girls of Lowell. The program was "The Kid," unpropitiated by the addition of cheap pseudo-dramatic films. The price of admission was the same whether one preferred box, orchestra, or the elevation of the balcony. The idea of having a special showing for the kiddies where they would not be obliged to put up with the stupidity of a bunch of uncomprehending adults, was conceived by the management, and the affair amply justified itself by its striking success. Every member of the juvenile audience lived with Charlie and his great artist-friend, five-year-old Jackie Coogan in their fantastic escapades. The Keith orchestra, conducted by Bill Gilmore, furnished the musical accompaniment.

RAILROAD RATES AND WAGES

For some time past, it has been quite evident that the railroads contemplated a cut down of wages as they have been sending out to the press for months past, statements alleging unfair labor conditions as a result of the arrangements made under federal control.

These statements were issued from the office of the Association of Railway Executives in New York. Not knowing how much foundation, if any, there might be for these items charging unfair practices coming down from the days of federal control, we did not publish them. But we give the following as a sample of what has been sent out to the press relative to working conditions on the railroads under federal agreements:

"In order to change a nozzle tip in the front end of a locomotive it is necessary:

1-To call a boiler-maker and his helper to open the door, because that is boiler-maker's work;

2-To call a pipe-fitter and his helper to remove the boiler pipe, because that is pipe-fitter's work;

3-To call a machinist and his helper to remove the tip, because that is machinist's work.

The same three forces must be employed to put in the new tip. Before federal control a machinist's helper or any handy man put in nozzle tips alone."

That is a mild statement compared to some that were issued from the same source and yet it is difficult to believe it in its entirety.

The railroads have brought proceedings before the Railroad Labor Board to have all the wartime agreements which are now considered unfair abolished. What the outcome on this and other questions involved will be, is problematical.

The railroads have announced sweeping reductions in wages, but the proceedings are likely to be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the Transportation act. As a result of the proposed reductions 100,000 men on New England railroads would be affected. If the railroads bring their employees to an agreement before the reductions take effect, then the requirements of the law will be met. If, however, the employees object, as they certainly will, then the roads must follow the case to the Railroad Labor Board, which will pass upon the proposed wage changes and decide before the increase takes effect, unless the roads adopt the policy of ignoring the law altogether.

The present scale of wages is based upon the existing rates and if wages are reduced, it is but reasonable to assume that rates will also come down, and in the same proportion. The roads complain of a loss of traffic; but this is not due to high wages but rather to high rates; and yet the railroads have been agitating for another increase in rates; particularly on coal, although the rates are now by far the highest on record in this country.

If the wage cut goes into effect, therefore, a cut in rates will also be in order. Traffic on the railroads is affected by high rates, as the railroads are by high fares—less business. The motor truck is abroad in the land and it is daily taking on a greater volume of the freight business of the country, because it provides cheaper and more prompt service, especially on short hauls.

The whole question of wages and rates is apparently soon to be made the subject of discussion and investigation not only by the Railroad Labor Board, but by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The latter body will have much to do with fixing rates in interstate commerce, while the Labor Board will deal with wages and working conditions on the railroad. It is to be hoped that the decision of both questions will be settled without strikes or interruption of business in any part of the country.

LLOYD GEORGE'S DILEMMA

Lloyd George is losing his reputation as a pacifier of Europe. His application of the war machine to collect debts in Germany has brought him severe criticism in England and on this question he cannot bluff the British people as readily as on the Irish situation. He has been designated the "wizard of politics" because he has been able to extricate himself and his ministry from a great many situations in which he was threatened with political defeat or overthrow.

But not in all Europe is there more cunning or more unscrupulous politician than the present British premier. An opportunist of the war, he is not in the class of men who have held that office for generations past. The British people look to their premier for high principle, honor, decency and veracity, but for these, Lloyd George substitutes political trickery, hypocrisy, mendacity and disregard of his past policies and pledges.

In the recent London conference, he yielded to Premier Briand and the French military party; and in England there is a feeling that the nation cannot endorse all the policies of France nor be a party to her aggressive attitude toward Germany, especially now when the reparations are to be collected and intercourse established. But if England backed down, France had determined to invade Germany alone and enforce payment. The British premier wants his share and that is his only defense for the policy adopted. Had he taken the opposite course and refused to follow France, the Jingo Tories would have crucified him so that it is a question whether in adopting the present course, he has followed the line of least resistance.

If the means adopted fail to get money from Germany in copious amount, and it probably will fail, then Lloyd George is likely to meet his Waterloo. Meantime nothing will militate so strongly against the premier as passive resistance on the part of Germany and that seems to be the policy which she is now adopting.

THE FEDERAL PLUM TREE

The faithful are gathering beneath the federal plum tree to wait for the luscious fruit that is about to fall.

The trees in the administration's orchard are heavy with ripening postmastercies, district attorneyships, revenue collectorships and other desirable offices.

Patronage has always been the bitter that went with the sweet of the presidential office. No president since Andrew Jackson has been exempt from its torments. Some have protested against its exactions on their time, their patience, their good nature and their peace of mind. Others have suffered in silence.

A month or so after he was elected, President Harding delicately suggested something of what he was even then enduring from the pursuit of place seekers and their friends.

"Turn the rascals out!" first became a party slogan in the administration of Jackson, who believed in rewarding his friends and giving his enemies what he thought was coming to them. Up to Jackson's time few men had been removed from federal office for political reasons. President Adams removed only ten men, one a default; Jefferson, 30; Madison, 5; Monroe, 9; the younger Adams, 2.

Clay, Calhoun and Webster condemned the spoils system, but not until 1871 were steps taken to curb it by civil service regulations. Later the assassination of Garfield by a disappointed spoilsman resulted in an enlargement of the civil service list.

Cleveland at first set his face against spoils, and the beginning of his administration was anything but satisfactory to politicians who wanted a clean sweep. But in the end Cleveland yielded to pressure, and before the third year of his administration had closed, about 45,000 out of 65,000 officeholders had been ousted.

The civil service protection arranged for by Mr. President Wilson is to be overruled in order that postmasters and other officials can be removed to give place to some of the hungry army of office seekers who look to the new administration to place them in government jobs.

THE MAYOR'S ECONOMY

There is very much of an air of "playing politics" in the attitude of Mayor Perry D. Thompson toward the municipal budget. He announces that he will not vote in favor of the adoption of the budget as it at present stands because he believes that it can be reduced $50,000. If the document is passed unchanged, he will have laid the foundations deep and strong for his appearance before the voters next fall with the assertion that he is not responsible for the high tax rate because he refused to vote in favor of the budget that made the rate necessary. The mayor expects this to be a winning issue, and if the people have sufficiently short memories, it may be.

If the mayor is really bent on economy, though, he can very easily save a considerable part of the $50,000 that he is bent on claiming to have wished to save the city treasury by cutting the expenditures authorized in his own department for the isolation hospital; bringing them nearer to the amount that the chamber of commerce committee thinks would suffice.

SOVIETS VS. BOLSHEVIKI

There is a split between the soviets and the Bolsheviks in Russia. The soviets are rising with revolutionists against the tyrannical methods of the Bolshevik leaders. The aim is to overthrow the dictatorship and establish representative government. As Trotsky and Lenin have charge of the transportation system, they can prevent the movement of supplies and thus starve out the cities that rise against them. Nevertheless if the people all over Russia rise against the dictators, they may eventually succeed in overthrowing the reign of terror that has swept Russia for the past two years. The trouble is that the people who are opposed to the Bolsheviks are not organized and there is but slight chance of their getting together in sufficient force to achieve their own deliverance.

LAURENCE PEOPLE, WHOSE FORM OF CITY government is similar to our own, and of which they are becoming exceedingly weary, are invited to come to Lowell at our next city inauguration, and we will show them the new model charter in practical operation.

A daughter of a multimillionaire has wedded a poet, but after reading the wedding sample we doubt that it was his "poetry" that captivated her. Nevertheless the sky's the limit for propitiates in the world of matrimony. And tedium is thwarted.

Why not provide some of the corn with blunders. Mr. Mayor is it placing too much of a strain on their optical nerves to expect them to manipulate the streets and not see the many cases of uncorrected drunkenness that the test of us are compelled to scan.

If you do not wholly like all of the features of the proposed new charter, take a look at the constitution of government under the present one and then remember that ten half a loaf is better than no bread.

After French soldiers had placed wreaths on the graves of their dead fallen across the Rhine, the Germans placed their hats on their heads while the "Marseillaise" was being played. Heine evidently is not scrupulous to such blandishments.

Governor Channing Cox says that he is opposed to daylight saving. Let him come up on the sidewalks on the South common in a few weeks and we will specially convince him of the error of his ways.

The Congressional Record ceased publication today, and the country editor will have to look up a new source of supply for wrappers for sending out his publications.

We are told that eight of the members of Mr. Harding's cabinet are college graduates, but it is harder to tell even whether the statement is a good ad for the educational institutions.

SEEN AND HEARD

A President has his congress on his hands or under his thumb.

Costa Rica has called off its war; couldn't stand the competition of the American baseball season.

German President Ebert "urges dignity," says a cable; how about dignity payment?

A little woman riding on a Chelmsford street car recently created a general laugh when, upon leaving the car at Lincoln square, she said to the conductor as she presented her ticket: "Ere, old top, punch holey 'alf ole—I'm honky 'alf size."

Tax on Harbors

Out in Montana the legislature has put over a $3 yearly tax on mixed adult males. That's a darn shame. The married man, unless he is getting a real salary of $5000 or more is not obliged to pay a federal income tax. His exemptions include $2000 for himself, $500 for his wife and $250 for each child. But the bachelor's exemption only reaches the $1000 mark and on all over that he has to pay 1 per cent. If he has no fortune enough to draw down $300 a year, his federal tax would amount to $3. What more do they want? To remain single is any man's privilege and a whole lot of women would be much better off if the men they married had remained single.

Are You At Fault

Thousands of human beings are killed or maimed by automobiles every year. The number of accidents constantly grows, due to two reasons: the increase in population, and the increase in use of the automobile. But the number need not increase, if there is a decrease in carelessness. Most pedestrians will jump at the conclusion that the carelessness is referred to is that on the part of the driver. Police Commissioner Knight of New York says that his records show that 78 per cent. of the automobile accidents are the fault of pedestrians, failing to cross at corners, running past the traffic officer, jay-walking, running ahead of approaching automobiles. If the pedestrian is 75 per cent. responsible and the driver but 25 per cent. responsible for the death toll, why, pray you, should we do more to make his own life safer in the streets. And we don't own an auto, either.

His Late Sup

The rap is rising. It's not surprising. When you look around: At night it freezes; But we have no red breezes, And shoots stir in the ground.

The twigs are swelling; The blue jays are full; More of his smart lies; The pussy-willows Are sprouting pillows— And look at those pink skies!

It may turn colder— But the sun grows hotter; It's a crueler waiting. Yes, April's waiting. And hesitating. And planning, I should say.

Our hearts seem lighter; Our thoughts grow brighter; We're sort of feeling free. And I'm surmising The sun is rising In us. Don't you agree?

—ALFRED ARNOLD.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The growing of sweet peas is a mighty important subject just now and demands immediate attention. In many an almanac will be found opposite the date, March 17, this St. Patrick's Day—time to sow sweet peas. The secret of successfully growing sweet peas is divulged by an expert. He says: "Sweet peas want root room, rich soil spaded deep with a cool, moist condition about the roots. Dig a trench 12 to 15 inches deep and fill to within six inches of the top with a good mixture of soil and manure and plenty of rotted leaf mold or stable bedding. Fill up gradually as the plants grow, thus keeping the roots down deep.

"Plant the seeds thickly if you wish to be sure of a good stand. But do not leave more than two plants to a foot, and if the soil is exceptionally rich one will be enough to each foot of space."

This treatment will assure a great bloom. And the more one picks, the more the plants blossom. That means the more pleasure you give to your neighbor by passing along the blossoms, the more blossoms there will be to give away.

A young woman employed at the Bay State Cotton Co. was given a double surprise during the past week, and unfortunately both were of a rather unpleasant nature. The first was when she filed her return with the internal revenue deputy collector, who kindly informed her that her assessment to the federal government in the form of an income tax was $5 and a few cents. She was under the impression that she would not have any income tax to pay, but her wages for the year were over $1000 and hence the $5 assessment. She paid the tax, figuring it would not take her long to make up the amount, but Saturday noon she was informed that her job would remain full for the next three weeks. "Such luck," she commented. She was advised to get married so as to put an end to all her worries—by letting her husband attend to the income tax matter.

On such a day as Sunday, Nature calls to some of us in a voice that cannot be disobeyed. There is a tie as old as the race that draws us with an irresistible pull away from the places where we know more about our neighbor's business than we often wish to know because the houses are so near together and there is always in the daytime the subtle undertone of the city. Perhaps since "the woods were God's first temples." A Sunday out of doors may be excused even by the most puritanical. It was no jollity, jolly auto trip that I made. I walked, except for a short part of the way in an electric car. I know from past experience what to expect in the country. The city sidewalks and streets were dry enough, but I was certain that I should find the fields still soggy with moisture even on the uplands, and in many places I found snow. It was wise enough to wear heavy overboots, and to save myself the discomfort of dragging them about after the sun had reached a point well overhead. I started early in the day. Once really out in the fields and woods it was almost possible to hear the contrast of the sap in most of the trees.

On many of them the buds were beginning to show a hint of swelling, and pussy willows in full bloom were reasonably abundant. Already in sheltered nooks a tinge of green is on the vegetation. Skunk cabbage, that ought to have a better name, in abundance are not far away. On one sunny ridge I came upon the first arbutus I have seen in the State in Lowell. Although I presume it may be plentiful enough to those who know where to look for it. The blossoms showed tinges of pink and a few days of sunshine will bring them out into their full beauty of color and perfume. And never far away was the trill of a robin.

MOTHER OF 14 SAYS IT'S HER FAMILY MEDICINE

"Tanlac Does What Other Medicines Fail to Do, Declares Lowell Woman—Wouldn't Be Without It"

"I am so grateful for what Tanlac did for me I can hardly express myself," said Mrs. Nellie DeJand, 233 Moody street, Lowell.

"In all my experience with medicine, and it has been considerable, as I am the mother of fourteen children, I have never seen the equal of Tanlac. Since it helped me so wonderfully I have adopted it for our family medicine and never expect to be without it in our home. For a year I had stomach trouble in a bad form.

IRISH CONCERT

Entertainment by "Mats"

Draws Capacity Audiences

The Mathew Temperance Institute troupe of entertainers was never in better form than yesterday afternoon and evening when the annual Irish concert of the organization, a feature which is looked forward to every year by hundreds, was given at the Lowell Opera House.

Capacity audiences were present at each performance and every number of the program was the signal for an outburst of applause and demands for encores. Rarely have the "Mats" assembled a company of entertainers so talented and few programs of this nature have been presented in which there has been such a variety of numbers. Every number had a touch of Erin and the singers' repertoire ranged from the old classical Irish melodies to the sprightly modern comic songs of today. There were 22 numbers in all with an abundance of extras and the only criticism of the entertainment that one may venture is the fact that it was a bit long. But that did not in the least detract from its quality.

The Mathew choruses of 100 mixed voices was in excellent trim and with John J. Townsend, musical director, wielding the baton, the chorus numbers were given with an infectious enthusiasm and spirit. The stage presented a most attractive appearance, the setting being an Irish woodland scene and in the front row sat the soloists arrayed in the picturesque costumes of Ireland. Behind them, elevated tiers, were the chorus men and women in white with herbs and there a touch of green.

The opening chorus introduced a medley of well known Irish numbers that have delighted succeeding generations for years. John L. Hanill in "Mother Machree" was the first soloist and he did justice to this sentimental composition in his usual finished manner. In the duet, "Ireland, I Love You," Margaret Mahoney and Miss Mary gave evidence of their beautiful voices.

Miss Marion Sanderson in "Ashore" gave that popular number with much feeling, while Charles J. Keyes in "Along the Rocky Road to Dublin," repeated his previous successes with this number and in his dancing accompaniment gave evidence of his skill as an entertainer.

Edward Donahoe sang when "Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and Miss Mary Mahoney in "The Day My Baker Wrote Upon St. Patrick's Day" more than delighted her audience. Joseph M. Reilly scored heavily in a particularly sweet ballad, "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen." John P. Roane, Jr. got a big hand in "That Old Irish Mother of Mine" and Misses Alice and Bertha Dion in their duet, "There's a Rose That is Blooming in Ireland," repeated their individual successes of earlier in the evening. Mathew S. Ryan was excellent in his "There's a Typical Tipperary Over Here" and Ed "Tip" Handley of the Honey Boy Four had the audience in an uproar in his character song, "That's How You Can Tell They're Irish." Mr. Handley is also deserving of much commendation for the comedy which he injected into the entire performance.

The program closed with an ensemble, "They're Won Every Nation's Battle But Their Own." Patrick Maguire sustained the solo.

John J. Townsend as musical director shared honors for the success of the production with Bernard H. Bourke, stage director, Paul J. Angelo, accompanist and John W. Sharkey who presided. The committee in charge was as follows:

Thomas J. Tighe, chairman; Charles P. Neenan, secretary; John J. Bourke, John J. Callahan, Thomas M. Carthy, John Conlon, Edward T. Draper, Thomas J. Durkin, Arthur M. Flaherty, James M. McGovern, Harold McKee, John Mahan, Francis Plunkett, P. Frank Reilly, Bernard H. Bourke, Matthew A. Ryan, John W. Sharkey, J. Frank Sullivan.

Every woman who suffers from any ailments peculiar to her sex, as indicated by backaches, headaches, bearing-down pains, irregularities, nervousness and "the blues" should not rest until they have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We have had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nineteen days is all they have lived. As I was going to have another, I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth, for this baby is now four months old and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says, 'That is some healthy looking baby.' You have my consent to show this letter."—Mrs. C. W. Benz, 131 3rd Ave., Altoona, Pa.

No woman can realize the joy and happiness this healthy babe brought into the home of Mrs. Benz, unless they have had a like experience.

WHALERS' LEAD REDUCED BOXERS ARE DUE TODAY

Cut to Three Games—Fall River and Lowell Feature Last Week's Play

Fall River's remarkable playing was the feature of the last week's play in the American Roller Polo league. Fred Jean and his Tigers swept undefeated through five games, including two with New Bedford, and as a result the Whalers' lead was cut to three full games.

Next to Fall River's work came the playing of the last week's Lowell, which won three and lost three. The club dropped a game to Providence on Monday night, then won here on Tuesday night from Worcester. Going to Worcester Wednesday night the locals sustained a defeat. They laid off on Thursday night. On Friday night New Bedford came here and after a bitter-contested game Lowell came out on top. To complete the week Lowell triumphed over the Gold Bugs at Providence on Saturday night.

All teams with the possible exception of Hartford are now playing whirlwind polo, and while the battle for the pennant now appears to be between New Bedford and Fall River, the other clubs still can have an important part in determining the ultimate winner.

The feature of this week's schedule is a "Bob Hart" night at the Crescent rink tomorrow night. Hart, who is playing sensational polo for Worcester and is among the league's leading goal getters, is the only Lowell man in the league and his friends and admirers here are planning to turn out in large numbers tomorrow night to honor him. The Lowell lodge of Elks, the Y. M. C. I. and the K. of C. are to participate in the testimonial and Mayor Thompson will be on hand to extend official greetings.

Lowell's schedule for this week calls for a game at Hartford tonight, Worcester here tomorrow night, Wednesday and Thursday the team will play off. On Friday night Providence will visit here while on Saturday night Lowell will play at New Bedford.

The complete schedule for the week follows:

Monday: Lowell at Hartford, New Bedford at Providence.
Tuesday: Worcester at Lowell, Fall River at New Bedford.
Wednesday: Providence at Fall River, New Bedford at Worcester.
Friday: Providence at Lowell, New Bedford at Hartford, Worcester at Fall River.
Saturday: Fall River at Providence, Hartford at Worcester, Lowell at New Bedford.

LOWELL WINS OVER PROVIDENCE TEAM

PROVIDENCE, March 14.—A big crowd here saw Lowell defeat Providence, 5 to 4, here Saturday night. It was a game superlatively played by both teams, with Lowell coming out on top in the third period and getting the lead in the fourth. Lowell played a brilliant polo for Lowell, and Quigley performed at top speed, at center, with Harkins and Davies working like Trojans every minute. Quigley took Cusick's place at halfback, did good work. Cusick was laid up with a bad ankle, the result of his run-in with Dufresne the night before at Lowell. For Providence, Kid Williams and Thompson were good, and Lyons was there at back. Kehoe took Muirhead's place at center, the latter having been injured by a flying stick. The score:

LOWELL	PROVIDENCE
Davies, Jr. 11	K. Williams
Harkins, Jr. 2	Thompson
Quigley, C. 5	Muirhead, Kehoe
Finnell, B. 1	Lyons
Muirhead, S. 1	C. Conley
Blount, S. 1	(First Period)
Caged by Team	Time
Williams, Providence	13:30
(Second Period)
Davies, Lowell	2:50
Davies, Lowell	2:00
Harkins, Lowell	1:10
Thompson, Providence	2:10
Thompson, Providence	(Third Period)
Davies, Lowell	5:50
Harkins, Lowell	2:30
Davies, Providence	4:30
Davies, Lowell	1:50

Summary—Score: Lowell 6, Providence 4. Rushes: Davies 11, Williams 2. Stops: Conley 34, Blount 65. Fouls: Finnell, Muirhead, Davies. Referee: Waters.

Managers Say Valger and Jacks Will Be Here—Benny Leonard Coming

Benny Valger and Freddie Jacks, who are scheduled to box at the Crescent rink on Wednesday night, will arrive in Lowell today according to messages received by the boxing writer of The Sun this morning from the managers of the rival battlers. And in addition the message from Valger's manager, Billy Gibson, also stated that Benny Leonard, lightweight champion of the world, will come here for the bout on Wednesday. Leonard is under the management of Gibson and as both realize the importance of the match for Valger, they are planning to be on hand when the bell rings. Valger's future in the ring depends on his showing here. He has disappointed Lowell fans so many times that a long suspension by the boxing commission was imminent. The local club has given him this final opportunity to square himself, and judging by the message received here today his manager realizes the situation and intends to go through with the bout.

Gibson's telegram, received this morning follows:

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 14.—Valger will arrive in Lowell Monday evening with the train. I will arrive with Benny Leonard Wednesday morning. BILLY GIBSON.

Joe Woodman, manager of Jacks, sent a letter, which reads as follows: "Fred Jacks, who made such a good impression in Lowell months ago when he boxed Andy Chaney, will arrive in Lowell this afternoon for his contest with Benny Valger on Wednesday evening."

Fred Jacks, who made such a good made Valger's manager post a big enough forfeit to make him positively put in an appearance as Jack claims Valger has run out of three different matches with him and that it is his candid opinion Valger is afraid of him.

Young Christo of Lowell, who lost by a narrow margin to Young Malla of Boston last week, is slated over being rematched with his conqueror. Christo says matters will be reversed in the next clash.

MAKES FOUR HOME RUNS IN ONE GAME

CINCINNATI, Ohio, March 14.—Four home runs and a single out of six times at bat were made yesterday by Sam Bohne, Cincinnati recruit third baseman in a game with the Columbia American association team at Ranger, Texas, according to despatches. Two of the homers were in the same inning. In the ninth Bohne led off with a homer to center. The other Reds hit and Bohne came to bat a second time with the bases filled and two out. This time he sent the ball over the right field fence. "Blix" Dawson, recruit outfielder, is expected to go to the Bridgeport, Conn. club.

Fiske Co. at Chicopee Resumes Operations

CHICOPEE, March 14.—The Fiske Rubber company which has been operated on a three day schedule since Dec. 1, today resumed full time and a wage reduction on both day and piece work was put into effect which amounts to an average of 10 per cent. About 1300 employees are affected. Increased overhead expenses under the shortened schedule makes the return to full time and wage reduction necessary, the company states.

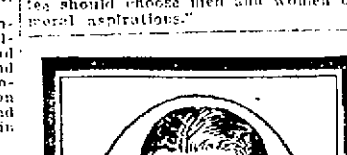

PRINCESS ANASTASIA CONTINUES TO IMPROVE

ATHENS, March 14.—Princess Anastasia, wife of Prince Christopher, who underwent a serious operation last week continues to improve, and is taking solid food. Queen Sophie of Greece and Queen Marie of Rumania, who came to Athens to attend the wedding of princess Elizabeth of Rumania and Crown Prince George, call on the patient daily.

WOULD BAR SCHOOL TEACHERS WHO SWEAR

BOSTON, March 14.—School teachers who swear when they drive into the rough or lose a game of golf on an easy put were censured by Rev. A. Z. Conrad in the Park street church last night.

"Profane men should be ousted from our schools," he said. "The influence of teachers whose profanity on the golf links is unrestrained, is undesirable for our children. Our school committees should choose men and women of moral aspirations."

BABE RUTH MAKES THREE HOME RUNS

NEW YORK, March 14.—During the game at Shreveport, La., yesterday, in which the New York Yankees defeated the Shreveport team, Babe Ruth led the home runs and three singles in six trips to the plate. He stole two bases and performed brilliantly at first base. The recruit, Al Wingo, who patrolled left field, followed Ruth in the batting order and gathered two singles and a double in five times at bat.

SINGS LULLABY, THEN KILLS TWO CHILDREN

CHICOPPEE, March 14.—After singing her two children to sleep yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Bertha Weworski, 55 Wheatland ave., suddenly became insane, seized an axe and beat out the brains of her two boys, Kasimer, aged 10, and Frank, an 18-month-old baby, and then attempted to commit suicide by beating her head against an iron bedstead. She is not seriously injured.

Neighbors heard the woman singing a lullaby about 3 o'clock and then a few minutes later heard the cries of the children. They investigated and found all the doors of the Weworski apartment locked. A search was made for the woman's husband and when he returned home entrance was gained through a window.

The bodies of the two children were found in the kitchen and the woman was found unconscious in a bedroom where she had attempted suicide. Physicians were called and worked over the children, but their efforts were useless. That the mania of the woman was to destroy life was proved by the fact that the gas was found turned on in the house and the rooms were full of gas when opened. Weworski stated to the police that his wife had been suffering from violent headaches lately, but gave no indication of being melancholy.

PASSION SUNDAY IN CATHOLIC CHURCHES

Passion Sunday was observed yesterday in all the local Catholic churches. Closing exercises of the women's mission at St. Patrick's church were held yesterday afternoon and last evening the men's mission opened under the direction of the Dominican fathers. The week's mission for men at the Immaculate Conception church came to a close last evening. All these services were largely attended.

The mission for the married men of St. Joseph's and St. Jean Baptiste churches came to a close at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, while the unmarried men of St. Louis' and Notre Dame de Lourdes' parishes closed their missions at the same time.

Next Thursday evening a three days' retreat for the men of the Sacred Heart parish will open. The parish's devotion, which began in St. Anthony's church Friday, came to a close last evening when special services were held.

Members of the Mathew Temperance Institute observed their annual communion Sunday yesterday by attending the 7.30 o'clock mass at St. Peter's church in a body. Rev. Daniel J. Ketcher, the spiritual director of the organization, was the celebrant of the mass. Following the services, the Mathews returned to their rooms in Central street where breakfast was served and an interesting program of entertainment carried out.

Held Quarterly Communion

The Y.M.C.I. held its quarterly communion at the 8 o'clock mass in the Immaculate Conception church yesterday. After the mass a communion breakfast was served in the institute hall in Stockpile street, and the members were addressed by Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan, Very Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, M.I., spiritual director of the organization, Rev. Francis T. Curry, O.M.I., and Rev. Clement Flynn, O.M.I., the missionaries who conducted the services during the past week, and President Thomas E. Clark. There has never been such a large attendance at a Y.M.C.I. communion service as there was yesterday. After the breakfast an excellent musical program was carried out. The entertainers included James Clancy, Patrick Maguire, Thomas Kelly, William Moss, Charles J. Keyes, James Carrigan, Frank McCartin, Edward Donehue, William O'Connell, Thomas Carlin, Andrew Doyle, Commissioner James E. Donnelly, Alfred Conroy, Warren Kane, George Hamersley, Joseph Craven, Joseph Wedge, Martin O'Connell, and Edward C. Cady. Arrangements for the Bob Hart fight, to be held at the Crescent rink tomorrow night, were discussed.

ROBBED BY SOLDIER SHE HAD BEFRIENDED

BOSTON, March 14.—Mrs. Annie Lucas of 43 Louis street, Chelsea, reported to the police yesterday morning that shortly after midnight she had been robbed of $22 by a man whom she had befriended; that he had also ransacked her house. She gave the police the name of the man, who, she said, is in the army and stationed at Camp Devens. Up to a late hour last night no arrest had been made.

Mrs. Lucas said the man had lodged with her before going into the service. He called on her Saturday night and asked for accommodations for the night. She said she provided him with a room.

Shortly after midnight she says the man entered her room, and pointing a revolver at her head demanded money. She gave him $22, all she had in the house. He was not satisfied with that and pulled out bureau drawers and

HOOVER INDORSES IRISH FUND DRIVE

BOSTON, March 14.—James J. Phelan, chairman of the Massachusetts committee for the relief in Ireland, has received the following telegram from Herbert C. Hoover, endorsing the drive for funds for the relief of the suffering in Ireland:

"I am glad to see that you have undertaken a noble and efficient work as my associate in administration of commission for relief in Belgium assures me that the work you have undertaken will be efficiently and economically carried out. I could not fail to wish every support to such an effort to relieve human suffering, and hope you will receive the support of the community."

Mrs. Francis E. Blattery has accepted the chairmanship of the woman's committee of the Massachusetts committee for relief of Ireland, with headquarters at 166 Devonshire street, where fund should be sent to Joseph H. O'Neill, treasurer.

THE FACE AT YOUR WINDOW
It is even better than "White New York Sleeps." A mysterious crime, a gigantic conspiracy against America, a secret service romance and a patriotic spectacle are combined into the most amazing, the most astounding events ever put on a screen. Filmed in 8 parts, "THE FACE AT YOUR WINDOW," deals with the problems of today. See it and realize just what it means to America and American ideals. Besides it will thrill you, it will keep you a tingle with excitement, suspense, mystified beyond belief. A production worthy of its writer, Max Marcin, the famous playwright.

AND REMEMBER other usual features are to be shown such as the 4th episode of "FIGHTING FATE," the 17th of "THE FLAMING DISK," "OPEN ANOTHER BOTTLE," a new comedy play and PATHE NEWS also.

the statement, which Mr. Robinson does not deny, that he is a rent payer, and some of the folks on the opposite side of the fence are asserting that he would not be quite such a firm defender of the animals if he owned property in the section.

"Are they going to kill the squirrels indiscriminately in the Highlands because one or two of them have damaged property?" said Mr. Robinson. "They have killed six now, but do they know that they have got the right ones? How can they know they have the right ones until the last squirrels are dead and buried, unless they catch each one that they kill actually eating up a building?"

Mr. Robinson spoke of the pleasure that the squirrels had given to the children of the neighborhood. He said that he was born in Sutton, N. H., and had been familiar with the animals all his life. He said they sometimes did slight damage to buildings, but that a remedy could usually be found without shooting them.

"One friend of mine," continued Mr. Robinson, "placed chicken wire around part of a building to protect it. Another, rather than kill the beautiful creatures, cut a tree that was close to his house. These are only sample instances and show that some people care enough for the small animals to take precautions that cost little to safeguard them. They care more for the squirrels and having them about their premises than for the few dollars worth of damage that can be guarded against."

Mr. Robinson asserted that he understood that many boys had been using over the Highlands, armed with rifles, shooting squirrels indiscriminately and saying that they had a right to as their fathers had permits."

Game Warden Talks

Elmer H. Haughton, the game warden, was seen at the home of Mr. Robinson. He was a very much perturbed man. He said that he proposed to do his duty and that he intended to protect the game and property owners. He was inclined to place a limitation on the interpretation of the public statutes that would limit killing of squirrels off the actual property of the owner of damaged buildings by saying that an owner could only shoot an animal on the property of another if he had actually seen the animal chewing things.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Robbins the Sun reporter made an inspection of the premises. To the newspaperman's eyes the damage to the residence did not appear very great. The principal place where it was alleged the squirrels had worked showed an opening about eight inches long by three and one-half inches wide in a blind. A place was shown on a piazza where it was said that two boards had been replaced. Some damage had been done in the barn, and the cupola very nearly put on the blink. Warden Haughton, who stated that he was a carpenter, estimated that it would cost $100 to repair the damage.

Mr. Robb is in the battle for the animals to a finish he says. He had a conference with Mayor Perry D. Thompson this morning. Later he will attempt to see Mayor Andrew J. Powers of Boston and find out whether it is ever necessary to kill any of the hosts of squirrels on Boston common. Later he may take the matter to the state house. In the meantime he has started a children's crusade to protect the animals.

City Solicitor William D. Regan was in Boston today in connection with the Middlesex street grade crossing case, now before the supreme court.

It was James T. McArde, not James G. McArde who presided at a recent labor meeting in Old Fellows hall. The mistake was in the initials. "T" instead of "G" appeared in the report of the meeting.

CARD OF THANKS

I take this means of expressing my gratitude to the brothers and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy extended to me during my recent bereavement in the loss of my dear son, WILKINS LAW DZIEWIEZYNSKI.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the undersigned, wish to thank our friends and relatives and neighbors for the many acts of kindness shown during the sickness and death of our beloved husband and father, MRS. NARCISSE DUCHARME, and family.

Superior Court Opens Here

Continued.

It was brought out that at the request of the local police a young man went to the house of defendant and purchased a pint of whiskey for which he paid $3. In commenting upon the case, the court said the stuff that was sold at the house was terrible. Sentence was deferred until later.

Isaac Soderberg, charged with violation of the liquor laws, was defaulted and a capias was issued for his arrest.

House of Correction.

Firestone

CUSHION TIRES

Give the speed of "cords" with the security of "solids."

A tire of exclusive Firestone design, it is one that fits a need in truck operation that has never been so capably met before.

It offers the economy of solid construction coupled with the resiliency almost equal to that of pneumatics, and a degree of traction greater than has ever been obtained before in a solid tire.

Try them next time and you will never regret it.

INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes Disordered Stomachs feel fine at once!

Signs of indigestion (food causing pain). When your stomach is acid and is gassy, sour, or you have heartburn, flatulence, headache or dyspepsia, here is speedy relief—no waiting.

Take a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin and instantly your stomach feels fine. The indigestion pain ceases, acidity and misery in the stomach caused by acidity end.

Pape's Diapepsin tablets cost little and are a sure drug store, but there is no surer or quicker stomach antacid known.—Adv.
